Entire Division Of Federal Troops Pursuing Rebels

ESCALON IS TAKEN FROM INSURGENTS

Many Reported Deserting To Government Forces After Mazatlan Defeat

AVIATORS USE BOMBS

Plutarco Calles, jr., Made Alternate to Legislature From Monte Leon

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—(UP)—An entire division of federal troops was preparing today to advance from Escalon toward Jiminez in pursuit of the retreating rebels who were forced to evacuate Escalon after a short engagement, the government announced.

Dispatches from Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, in command of field operations for the government, stated that the federals expected to take Jiminez without opposition. Federal aviators, according to Calles, reported that the rebels had begun to retreat toward Santa Rosalia.

A column of cavalry took Escalon from the rebels yesterday after a brief engagement in which four rebels were reported killed and two federals wounded. About 200 rebels under General Cessario Castro, retreated toward the north. Meanwhile, General Juan Almazon's main force was encamped at Jaral Grande, a short way from Escalon, ready to begin the march. General Calles said he was taking special precautions to guard Almazan's rear in order that nothing may interrupt his line of communications with his base.

From Mazatlan, in Sinaloa, General Jaime Carrillo, in command of the federal garrison, reported the rebels in full retreat toward the north. According to observations of aviators, Carrillo said, many rebels were deserting. Carrillo ordered his aviators to continue bombing the retreating columns. Meanwhile, he is proceeding with his repairs of the railway lines.

WASHINGTON YOUTH KILLED BY TRAIN

PRESTON, Ida., March 29—(UP)—Edwin Parker, of Yakima, Wn., whose body was found near here yesterday after it had been run over by an Oregan train, was killed by the freight train and was not a victim of foul play, a coroner's jury decided yesterday.

Parker, a youth of 18, was believed to have possessed considerable money, none of which was found on his person by trainmen who found the body. Examination of the youth's head, which was completely severed from the body, showed a large hole, indicating that he had been hit by some blunt instrument. Franklin county officers express the belief that he had been left unconscious on the railroad track.

OPEN NEW POSTOFFICE BIDS ON APRIL 25

Federal Agent At Washington Seeks Offers

Government to Consider Two Sites from Each Bidder Stephenson Says

POSTMASTER T. E. Stephenson announced today that he had received notice from Washington that bids for the sale of Santa Ana property to be used as the site of the new $245,000 federal building to be erected here by the government in the near future, would be opened in the treasury department at 2 p. m. April 25.

The announcement brought about a renewed interest in the huge project, which will give Santa Ana one of the best post office structures in the Southland.

According to information made public by Stephenson today the government will consider offers on alternate sites, one to contain approximately one-half a city block and the other to utilize approximately an entire block. Bids will be opened in the office of the supervising architect, treasury department.

Specifications announced today show that one site might be 155 by 200 feet in dimensions, containing 31,000 square feet. The alternate location specified would be 195 by 225 feet, containing 43,900 square feet. Stephenson explained that blocks in the city were 250 feet square. Thus the latter site would utilize approximately an entire block while the smaller one would require about half a block.

Use of the first site, 155 by 200 feet, would leave a strip on one side of a block 95 feet deep and a strip 50 feet deep on the other side. The site 195 by 225 feet would leave a strip 25 feet deep on one side of the block and 55 feet deep on the other side, Stephenson explained. He stated that the dimensions were not arbitrary and that they might vary by a few feet either way.

The site must be conveniently located and suitable for a federal building, he said.

On application Stephenson will supply prospective bidders with a circular giving particulars regarding requirements and instructions for preparation of bids and date to accompany them, he said.

HOOVER'S AIDE

Lieut. Col. Campbell Hodges, commandant of cadets at West Point, has been appointed military aide to President Hoover. He succeeds Col Osmun Latrobe, who will devote his time to his duties as assistant to the chief of cavalry in the war department.

CONGRESSMAN INDICTED ON RUM CHARGES

Illinois Solon Is Given 24 Hours to Surrender to Federal Court

CHICAGO, March 29. — (UP) — Congressman M. Alfred Michaelson today was given 24 hours in which to surrender on an indictment charging violation of the prohibition laws.

United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker issued the ultimatum at the federal building and said that if the Chicago congressman did not give himself up within that time a United States marshal would be "sent out to bring him in."

Michaelson's bond was fixed at $2000 and proceedings were started to remove him to Jacksonville, Fla., where he was indicted last October 17 on charges of trying to enter the United States at Key West the previous January 3 with the following liquors:

Six quarts of John Haig whiskey; two quarts of Creme de Menthe; one quart of Creme de Cocoa; one quart of Taffel Akavit; one quart of cherry brandy, and one keg of Plum Barbaucourt.

The indictment, a copy of which is in the United States commissioner's possession, charges the congressman with possession, transportation and importation without duty of intoxicating liquors.

LICENSES OF SHIP OFFICERS REVOKED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—(UP)—Two officers of the Dollar liner President Adams today stood deprived of their licenses for six months because of inattention to duty in allowing the vessel to run aground at the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal January 11.

Steamboat Inspectors Frank Turner and Joseph Dolan announced their findings yesterday against Capt. William C. Moss and Second Mate Raymond E. Dobie, saying there was a general lack of discipline, management and cooperation on the part of the officers.

BANK CALL

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(UP)—Comptroller of Currency J. W. Pole issued today a call for reports on the condition of national banks as of March 27, 1929.

$250,000 TO BE SPENT ON PLANT HERE

ENROLLMENT OF 285

Old Sugar Factory on So. Main Street Is Under Consideration Today

REMOVAL of the Pasadena college, denominational school of the church of the Nazarene, to Santa Ana seemed assured here, today, when O. J. Nease, president of the college, came here for a conference with the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the local church, on site locations in Santa Ana.

The Rev. Mr. Harding, who is a member of the committee named by the college board of directors to submit site recommendations to the board, disclosed that the old sugar factory building on South Main street is under consideration, with a site of 40 acres. The property is owned by the Southern California Sugar company, one of the units of the Holly Sugar corporation. A forty-acre tract on North Main street, a short distance north of the bridge crossing the Santiago creek, also is under consideration.

The local pastor declared that investigations of sites here had been under way for some weeks, and he disclosed that he had gone so far as to have a local architect look over the structure on South Main street for the purpose of determining whether or not it could be adapted to the purposes of a college.

Pointing out that the college in Pasadena has an enrollment of 285 pupils from various sections of the United States, the Rev. Mr. Harding said that the campus and buildings were inadequate to meet the needs of the college. He pointed out that the site contains only 20 acres and that it is located inside of the Pasadena city limits, but in the foothill section near Altadena, where developments are encroaching on the university property. He said it is necessary to remove the educational institution from the district, first because the property has become too valuable for college use and also because it places a limitation on development of the institution.

The Rev. Mr. Harding said that if the college is moved to Santa Ana it would be doubled in capacity and that approximately $250,000 would be expended in site and buildings.

According to the pastor, the four district superintendents, who correspond to bishops in other protestant churches, and the general board of education of the denomination decided at conferences in Kansas City last month that the college should be relocated. The college trustees, in their annual meeting at Pasadena in February, also recommended that a change be made.

In discussing the procedure of settlement of the location, the Rev. Mr. Harding said that the conference meeting in this city next June would have the final

GIRL AND KIDNAPER LOCATED BY POLICE

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(UP)—Reports from Charlotte, N. C., today to Philadelphia detectives said Alice Labutis had been found there safe and that Curtis S. Devonshire had been arrested as her kidnaper.

Police said they were informed by Charlotte officers that the child was uninjured. Devonshire was trapped by a decoy telegram, it was said.

It was feared for a time that the girl, who used a rubber tube through which to swallow her food, faced possible death, because her kidnaper didn't know she needed expert medical care to live.

Senator Says Prohibition Found Failure

LOS ANGELES, March 29—(UP)—United States Senator Key Pittman of Nevada was enroute to Washington today after telling local newspapermen he personally believed prohibition was a failure.

"However," the Nevada senator declared, "I have pledged my earnest co-operation and support in the enforcement of the law, and if necessary, I am in favor of calling out the army and navy in assisting the government to adequately enforce it.

"But the question of how long the people will stand the financial burden remains to be seen. The United States should abandon prohibition if it does not prove successful during the Hoover administration."

L. A. PLANNING BODY HEAD IS SPEAKER HERE

Charles Diggs Says County Program Would Save Big Sum of Money

DECLARING that most of the work of the regional planning commission of Los Angeles county in its six years of existence has been concerned with correction of errors made in the laying out of highways and location of business areas, Charles H. Diggs, director of the Los Angeles regional planning commission, told men and women present at the annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, at St. Ann's Inn, last night, that direction of development in Orange county under a major planning program would save the taxpayers thousands of dollars

He pointed out that millions of dollars have been spent in Los Angeles in correction of situations that would not have developed had there been a program of direction in the location and opening of streets, admission of subdivisions and assignment of properties to business use.

The speaker particularly stressed the point that Orange county should institute a commission at this time in preparation for a great development that is certain to take place here in the next few years.

Advisory Body

Diggs discussed the 'set-up' necessary for successful operation of a planning commission and presented details of the organization of the Los Angeles regional com-

Farmer, 20, Draws Life Sentence For Murder Of Student

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 29.—(UP)—A life term in prison faced Lanza Bryant, 20-year-old farmer, today following his conviction, just before midnight, of the first degree murder of Lewis M. "Hip" Dickerson, of Weiser, Ida., former Oregon state college football star and assistant grid coach.

The jury returned its verdict, recommending life imprisonment after six hours deliberation. The recommendation makes the life sentence automatic and it will be passed by Judge Skipworth Monday.

The defendant took the verdict calmly, albeit he wiped perspiration from his brow with a handkerchief. Although the courtroom was filled with college students and townspeople despite the late hour, the only break in the stillness of the room after the jury returned its verdict, was the sobbing of Bryant's aged mother.

Senate Asked To Probe Into Stock Market

Utah Solon Would Prevent Federal Reserve Bank Loans On Stocks

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(UP)—A senatorial investigation of the sensational price pirouetting on the Stock Exchange was demanded today by Senator William H. King of Utah who announced he would introduce a resolution at the coming special session of congress calling for such an inquiry.

King also will present a bill proposing to prevent federal reserve banks from lending any money for marginal transactions. He believes some steps should be taken to prevent such activities as have characterized trading on exchange during the last few days.

In this belief he is endorsed by an influential group of senators, many of them former bankers.

"I have prepared for introduction a resolution providing an investigation by the senate banking and currency committee of the activities and causes of recent violent fluctuations on the stock exchange," King said in a statement given the United Press.

"It is obvious that credit facilities have been improperly used to influence the market, causing losses of millions of dollars to citizens.

"Manipulation of the market by stock brokers is a fit subject for congressional inquiry.

"In an investigation four years ago we learned that 80 per cent of the trading in the market was through marginal transactions. In other words 80 per cent was strictly gambling because then the traders had no intention of purchasing stock outright for investment purposes.

"I have prepared a bill for introduction along the resolution, denying the use of the mails to promoters encouraging this gambling and I have also prepared a bill to prevent the federal reserve banks from lending their funds to such purposes.

"It is time something should be done."

MOONSHINER, 60, IS HANGED FOR MURDER

WALLA WALLA, Wn., March 29.—(UP) — Luther Baker, 60, mountaineer moonshiner, was hanged at the penitentiary here today for the murder of Sheriff Lester Wood of Clark county in May, 1927.

Baker was unemotional and silent as he mounted the gallows and waited for death. The trap was sprung at 4:34 a. m. and prison physicians pronounced him dead at 4:46 a. m.

Nervous, in tears, and on the verge of a mental breakdown, Ellis Baker, brother of the doomed man, sat in his cell a few yards away. He is serving a life sentence for the same murder, committed when Sheriff Wood and a posse raided the Bakers' mountain distillery.

Screen Director Settles Damage Action For $500

RIVERSIDE, March 29—(UP)—A suit for $20,000 damages filed against William Nigh, screen director, has been settled here for $500, according to court records on file today.

Nigh was sued by Leonard Benedict, of Soboba Hot Springs, who charged that he had been humiliated by the screen director as the result of an altercation over Jen Jarvis, picture actress and dancer.

Benedict charged that Nigh took him on an enforced automobile ride, warning his against seeing Miss Jarvis.

SPECIAL STATE INVESTIGATOR TO PROBE DRY RAID SLAYING

Morgue Scheme Revealed By L. A. Coroner

LOS ANGELES, March 29—(UP)—A "funeral selling scheme," whereby an attendant of the Los Angeles morgue assertedly bartered the bodies of accident and homicide victims to the highest-bidding undertaker on a "split fee' basis, was the object of an investigation by Coroner Frank Nance today.

Investigators said that under the alleged scheme, the mortuary attendant in calling for the body would obtain the signature of a relative of the victim to an order blank requesting the coroner to deliver the body to a certain undertaker at the close of the coroner's investigation.

OFFICER SHOT WITH TEAR GAS BY INSTRUCTOR

Investigate Charge Military Head at St. Catherine's Fired Gun

THE district attorney's office this afternoon was quizzing Capt. Daniel M. Haley, military instructor for the St. Catherine's school, at Anaheim, concerning a charge that he deliberately shot acid into the face of Sam Snodgrass, deputy sheriff member of the county fruit patrol, after Snodgrass and Officer Whalen had arrested him on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Snodgrass was taken to the county hospital this afternoon seriously burned about the face from the acid. The gun used resembled a fountain pen, and according to the arresting officers, Haley had it in his hand at the time he was arrested. While he was being searched, he suddenly fired it in Snodgrass' face, officers said.

The shooting took place in front of the Marigold cafe, in Anaheim, according to Robert Sandon, investigator for the district attorney, who was working on the case this afternoon.

Sandon was of the opinion that the gas was tear gas, fired from a container with the lad of a .410 gauge cap. He said that Snodgrass' face was badly burned and that one eye was affected by the gas. No charge has been placed against Haley.

QUEBEC CEREMONIES POSTPONED BY DEATH

QUEBEC, Que., March 29.—(UP)—As a result of the sudden death of Sir Lomer Gouin, newly appointed lieutenant-governor of the province of Quebec, the prorogation of the Quebec legislature has been postponed for an indefinite period, it was announced here today.

Sir Lomer's death came with dramatic suddenness yesterday afternoon, a few minutes before he was due on the floor of the legislature to begin the prorogation ceremonies.

It was while he was putting on his official robes in one of the anterooms of the state building that he was scized by an acute heart attack.

Incensed Feeling Spreading Over Aurora—Inquest To Be Tuesday

AURORA, Ill., March 29.—(UP)—Indignant Aurora or that faction of the citizenry that has openly criticised the secrecy county authorities have draped around the "dry raid killing" of Mrs. Lillian De King today turned hopeful eyes toward a special state investigation called to take charge of the inquiry.

The bombardment of criticism aimed at State's Attorney George D. Carbary of Kane county that "a fair investigation was not being made," forced the county prosecutor to step aside and ask that a special investigator be appointed.

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom notified Kane county officials that Charley W. Hadley, an assistant in his department, would take charge of the investigation and would be present at the inquest called for next Tuesday afternoon.

The incensed feeling that has spread throughout the state since raiders stormed the little frame cottage outside the city's limits, clubbed Joseph De King with the butt of a shotgun and shot his wife "in self defense," has gathered momentum and promises to continue until some action is taken to appease friends of the victims.

The secretive attitude of the county officials caused friends and attorneys of De King, who have been making a special investigation, to "take some action."

Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who fired the fatal charge at Mrs. De King is in a critical condition in an Elgin hospital today, suffering from a bullet wound in his hip. The bullet was fired by Gerald De King, bright-eyed boy of 12, after he saw his father struck over the head and his mother killed.

"I didn't mean to kill anyone," Gerald said. "I just wanted them to go away and leave my mother alone."

IDAHO RAIL LINE SEEKS EXTENSION

WASHINGTON, March 29—(UP)—Permission to construct a 238-mile railway extending from Nyssaa, Ore., to Winnemucca, Nev., was sought from the interestate commerce commission today by the Idaho Pacific railway, a new corporation.

The proposed line will form a new connection between California, Western Idaho and Eastern Oregon. At Winnemucca the new line would connect with the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific, whose lines run into California.

Five Killed When Bomb Explodes On Ranch In Mexico

CALEXICO, Mexico, March 29.—(UP)—An unexplained explosion took five lives and destroyed a deferal ammunition building on the Packard ranch, five miles east of here last night.

Three Mexican soldiers and Fritz Von Schulenberg, a German bomb maker, and his daughter were the victims of the blast. They either were blown to bits or crushed by flying debris.

Nine kegs of powder and a number of aerial bombs furnished the material for the explosion. The brick building which housed the munitions was destroyed at an estimated loss of $12,000.

Von Schulenberg was employed to prepare bombs for use of federal aviators in the present revolution.

NAMED MANAGER

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—(UP)—The resignation of Norman B. Courteney as manager of the Los Angeles Stock exchange was announced today.

Simultaneously, it was announced that Courteney will become executive manager of the Southern California division of E. A. Pierce & Company, members of the New York Stock exchange. Courteney's resignation will become effective in the near future.

PHONE COMPANY IN HUGE MERGER

NEW YORK, March 29.—(UP)—Creation of the greatest cable—radio-land-line communication concern in the world was seen here today in a huge double purchase maneuvered by the International Telephone and Telegraph company, owners of the Postal Telegraph company, Commercial Cables and All-American Cables.

First the I. T. & T. bought R. C. A. Communications, Inc., the communication company of the Radio Corporation of America, and followed this today by purchasing the U. S. and Haiti Cable company, a connection of the French Cable company.

Governor of Iowa Facing Charge Of Illegal Expenses

DES MOINES, March 29.—(UP)—Charges of illegal campaign expenditures were expected to be levelled at Gov. John Hammill today with the filing in the house of an amendment to the election committee's resolution calling for an investigation of the 1928 primary.

In the original resolution the committee designated those to be investigated as "state officers." This, opponents of the action said, was too general, so members of the committee spent most of last night framing an amendment which would be specific.

Members of the committee would not outline the amendment but said it would be filed today and intimated the governor, now serving his third term, would be named in it.

Two Realty Deals, Involving $226,000, Announced

CITRUS GROVES CHANGE HANDS IN TRANSACTION

Real estate transactions in which large holdings of citrus property were involved were revealed here today when Walter Tubach and Walter Cook announced the successful completion of a deal whereby J. M. Irvine and his sister, Sarah H. Irvine, acquired approximately 50 acres of citrus land from H. Lawrence Wakeham and his wife, Cora R. Wakeham.

This sale was followed, in turn, by one whereby Wakeham became the owner of a tract of similar size set to two-year-old orange trees, on North Bristol street.

A total consideration of $101,000, all cash, was involved in the first deal, whereby J. M. Irvine and Miss Irvine acquired the property described as lot 253, block 104, in the Irvine subdivision. This is set principally to two-year-old trees with a few one-year-old trees. The property on North Bristol street, described as a part of the Mabury tract, Santa Ana, was purchased by Wakeham for a consideration of $125,000, part on terms.

Both properties now are in escrow, according to Tubach and Cook, with possession to be given in 15 days.

GARDEN GROVE WILL HAVE NEW DIAL PHONE EXCHANGE, EARL S. MORROW ANNOUNCES

An entire new dial system telephone exchange, including a new telephone building, will be placed in service in Garden Grove within the next year, according to an announcement today by Earl S. Morrow, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The company has purchased a lot from Arthur W. Lewis with a 50-foot frontage on the east side of Euclid street, 225 feet north of the present Garden Grove telephone exchange. On this site a new building will be erected which will house dial system telephone equipment of the latest type. Morrow said that the dial facilities to be placed in service in Garden Grove will be similar to the other smaller dial system offices which have been added in several communities in Southern California recently and which are proving very popular.

The date for completion of the project and the amount involved has not been definitely ascertained, according to the manager, although it is contemplated that the new office will be in service during the early part of 1930. Construction work probably will get under way late this year. Telephone architects now are at work on plans which promise Garden Grove a telephone building of pleasing design, according to Morrow.

LA HABRA BOY ENDS HIS LIFE WITH BULLET

PAUL LOWEN, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lowen, of West Erna street, La Habra, shot himself through the heart at 6 o'clock this morning. He died a short time later.

Fear of ill health was believed the reason for the youth's suicide. He was a former Fullerton student.

Lowen fired the fatal shot while in bed. His parents called to him. When they received no answer they rushed into his room. Lowen was breathing and Dr. E. S. Boice was called. The youth passed away at 7 o'clock.

An older brother, James, collapsed when he was informed of Paul's act and was placed under a physician's care.

The body was taken to the McAulay and Suters parlors in Fullerton.

ENGINEERS INITIATE

Seven new members were initiated into the Santa Ana High School Engineering club last night, when about 20 boys journeyed to Orange County park for the exercises. Refreshments, consisting of ice-cream, cake, candy and hot dogs, were served and then the new engineers were put through their paces. Those being initiated were Lawrence Woodhouse, George Berry, Harold Long, Ray Davis, Harry Clayton, John Hadley and Winfield Martin.

Committees Will Seek Agreement On Dirigible Site

Discussion of the Graham-Loftus tract near Brea as a site for the proposed navy dirigible base took place yesterday afternoon, when a group of 30 Orange county men gathered in McFarland's cafe, Fullerton, at the invitation of the Brea Chamber of Commerce.

The Brea site was praised by Jefferson Davis, Los Angeles attorney, one of the speakers.

In an effort to decide on one of the two Orange county sites proposed for the government base, the presidents of the Santa Ana, Brea and Associated Chambers were asked to appoint committees to see if an agreement on the matter could not be reached. The committees of the three organizations are scheduled to meet soon for a conference.

Permit Increase To $1,000,000 In Excelsior Stock

Amended articles of incorporation for the Excelsior Creamery company, of Santa Ana, authorizing an increase in capital stock from $250,000 to $1,000,000, were filed today in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

According to the document, the board of directors met on February 11 and authorized the plan for increasing the capital stock.

Directors named in the certificate were W. D. Ranney, president; D. G. Tidball, secretary; J. A. Ranney, M. Del Giorgio, J. E. Liebig, A. J. Lasby and C. L. Cotant.

NEW FEATURES SUGGESTED FOR WEEK OF MUSIC

Members of the Santa Ana Music week committee met in Ketner's cafe this noon for discussion of further plans regarding the elaborate celebration to be staged here during National Music week, May 5 to 11, inclusive.

Numerous new and attractive novelty features planned for the event are lending stimulus to enthusiasm manifested by committee members in preparation for an especially outstanding festival.

Financial budgets were handed Harry Hanson, chairman and business manager.

A report was made by James Hughes, concerning church choirs to participate in the large choral ensemble, which will mark the week's opening program, to be staged in Birch park on Sunday afternoon, May 5.

At this time prominent choral organization, including the Santa Ana Cantando club and the Treble Clef club, will participate, aided by other choral groups. The Santa Ana Municipal band also will be heard in connection with this special program. Radio amplification will add to the effectiveness of this event, bound to attract a record crowd.

Special plans have been made for effective film publicity, to be handled through news reel features to be released in advance of the celebration.

On Spanish night, which will be in charge of Miss Faustina Lucero, prominent dancer, introduction of a native marimba band will prove an attractive novelty.

Car Loaded With Liquor Is Seized; Man, Woman Held

A man and a woman, occupants of an automobile alleged to be loaded with liquor, were arrested at Third and French streets this afternoon by B. A. Hershey, city traffic officer.

Both are being held on charges of possession of liquor, which included 12 one-gallon jugs of whiskey, 15 quarts of gin and seven empty jugs, according to officers.

The persons arrested gave the names of Inez M. Leonard, 33, and John Smith, 35, of 436 West 90th stret, Los Angeles.

Lawyers Will Be Fined For Tardiness

Orange county attorneys who fail to appear on time when cases are called in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court in which they are acting as counsel will be fined $1 a minute for tardiness in the ture.

Anyway, Judge Allen announced that a new rule to this effect had been adopted in his court today when a Santa Ana attorney was over 30 minutes late in appearing to defend an asserted criminal. The attorney stated that he had not received notice of the hearing until just prior to his arrival.

The fine was not assessed today, but Judge Allen indicated that the new rule was designed to insure prompt appearances of attorneys.

BUILDING, LOAN FIRMS HERE IN GOOD CONDITION

Books of all the building and loan associations in Santa Ana have been thoroughly audited by examining deputies from the building and loan commissioner's office in Sacramento and no criticism has been made as to the condition of any of the associations here, either as to the quality of the loans or the conditions of the accounts, it was announced today.

Deputies working in this city were C. C. Barnes and C. W. Vaught. The state appraiser, W. G. Davidson, worked with them. The total assets of the three building and loan associations here were reported to be $5,000,000.

Santa Ana associations are optimistic as to future growth and representatives offered statements of satisfaction with their previous activity.

"We are glad to have the inspectors visit us," declared Cotton Mather, secretary of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association. "It is always a satisfaction to be told we are doing well. We consider our growth to be satisfactory, as we have an increase of about $400,000 over last year. The future of Santa Ana looks very bright to us and we are glad to note that since our success depends on the growth of the city."

A. C. Hasenjaeger, of the Southwest Building and Loan association, said: "Our growth has been satisfactory from the very beginning, in fact it has been far better than we expected it to be. We feel that the future appears exceedingly bright because Santa Ana and vicinity are certain to continue to grow."

"Our assets are now $3,842,092.29," P. G. Beisel, president of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, stated. "The associations here are extremely fortunate in having their funds very nearly loaned out and the outlook for the future is encouraging. Our average loans have amounted to about $2700 and the growth since last year is very satisfactory."

mssion. He gave emphasis to the necessity for creation of the proper foundation for such work by employment of trained men. The commission, he said, merely is advisory to the board of supervisors and has no authority by which it can enforce its own recommendations.

The planning director commented on the situation of hot dog stands, fruit stands and other small establishments lining Whittier boulevard virtually to the Orange county line and complimented this county on the fact that on the Orange county end of that boulevard there is complete absence of "merchandising shacks." He asserted his belief that the time never would come when lining of both sides of the highway in Orange county with business houses would be justified by population. The prediction often has been made that eventually the highway between here and Whittier would be build solidily with business houses.

J. F. Burke, publisher of The Register, as chairman of the planning committee of the chambers, introduced the speaker. Commenting on teh fact that the committee in the last year has held many meetings with various groups and in various sections of the county, Burke declared his belief that the county is almost a unit in a demand for creation of a county planning commission.

Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent and a member of the county advertising committee revealed that the new county booklet soon would be available for distribution. He said that 35,000 copies of the booklet would be printed and that the issue would be the finest ever published by the county. He said that it is devoted almost exclusively to scenes in the county, with a brief captaion for each picture.

Annual Report

In making his annual report for the good roads committee, J. A. Smiley presented figures on road construction in the county presented early in the year by Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways. Smiley declared necessity for a system of major highways in the county, pointing out that increasing population is making such a course more necessary each year.

The chamber passed over to the next meeting consideration of a suggestion that the meeting night of the body be changed from the last Thursday to the last Tuesday night of each month. Secretary Macleod said that the request had come from the weekly newspaper men of the county. Most of the publishers are busy Thursday nights in putting their respective papers to press, it was pointed out, and were unable to attend the meetings. A committee was appointed to make investigations and report recommendations. The members are George Raymer, Thomas Pickerill and George Macleod.

George Reid, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Anaheim, announced that the Valencia Orange show to be held May 23-June 2 would be housed in a steel tent. The secretary gave a word picture of the publicity that would accrue to Orange county by use fo such a tent and by the display of golden fruit that would be made. He said that this type of tent would be used at Anaheim for the first time in housing a display of this character.

The address of welcome was given by George Raymer and response was by W. J. Carmichael.

say, the conference acting on recommendations of the committee of which he is a member.

It was pointed out by the Rev. Mr. Harding the educational zone of the denomination in which the Pasadena institution is located, embraces the states of California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. He said, however, that attendance was not limited to pupils from these states.

The college was established 25 years ago and has made a progress satisfactory in every way to the church officials, the pastor commented.

Other communities in the southland have offered sites, it was disclosed by the Rev. Mr. Harding.

AUTO IS RECOVERED IN STATE CAPITAL

An automobile, reported stolen from D. A. Griffith, of Fullerton, has been recovered in Sacramento, it was announced today by the sheriff's office. The man in the car at the time it was recovered, however, made his escape, it was said.

Word was received here yesterday to the effect that a man was being held in the Sacramento jail for Orange county authorities following recovery of the machine.

Today a telegram was received to the effect that the man had escaped.

The Griffith machine was stolen several days ago from a Fullerton street.

Liquor Charges Flung By Wife In Suit For Divorce

Asserting that she had found her husband, William F. Van Meter, Santa Ana, in his lunch room with a truck driver and a supply of liquor, and relating that she had destroyed the refreshments, thereby causing Van Meter to become angry, Margaret S. Van Meter today brought suit for divorce against her husband.

On that occasion he told her that the only way to make money in a lunch room was to sell liquor, according to the complaint. She said he had been discharged from him job in a South Main street grocery on Oct. 23, 1928, because of drunkenness.

Mrs. Van Meter said that she had left her husband on December 29, when she discovered the liquor in his lunch room. They were married in January, 1926, according to the complaint. Mrs. Van Meter is represented by Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Just as temperaments vary in many other respects, so the manner of men's approach to God differs. Do not imagine that there is something wrong with you because you have not found Him in exactly the way and by the channels through which others have come into touch with Him.

His touch with each soul is essentially individual and unique. But he knows the language of your experience, and if you stop, look and listen, you will see and hear what your life needs must have if you are to carry your burdens bravely and face the days ahead with confidence.

J. S. MALCOLM GETS POST OF VICE PRESIDENT

Lotus Loudon, publisher of the Anaheim Bulletin, was elected president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at the annual meeting of the organization, held last night at St. Ann's Inn, Santa Ana.

J. S. Malcolm, principal of the high school in Capistrano, was honored with the position of vice president and George Macleod, secretary of the Newport arbor Chamber of Commerce, was returned to the position of secretary and treasurer.

The officers were recommended by a nomination committee, headed by Tom Pickerill, of Placentia, and were elected by acclamation.

In accepting election, Loudon pointed out that balanced development and prosperity in Orange county is a desirable situation and pledged his best endeavor to the organization in promotion of this condition.

Loudon succeeds Harry H. Hale, of Placentia. The latter's administration was declared by Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, to have been marked by success.

The retiring president, in brief remarks, expressed his appreciation of the loyalty and co-operation delegates had extended him in the solution of the many problems that have come before the county booster body during the last twelve months.

The new officers will assume their positions at the April meeting of the chambers, to be held in Brea.

ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS TO REMAIN NEUTRAL ON BILL FOR BEACH CITIES' MERGER

The Associated Chambers of Commerce, at its annual meeting here, last night, assumed a neutral position with reference to the bill pending in the state legislature making provision for annexation by a municipality of incorporated and unincorporated territory in an adjoining county.

Reporting for the legislative committee, which has held several sessions for discussion of the bill, J. A. Smiley said that the committee "stood pat" on its recommendation, made at the Costa Mesa meeting, in February, that the body withhold its indorsement of the bill.

It was pointed out at the Costa Mesa meeting that the committee considered the bill vicious because it creates a situation by which a city might annex unlimited unincorporated territory without possible contest and because it was inadequate with reference to disposition of situations that would arise in school and judicial matters.

The interest of the county in the bill lies in the fact that it has been indicated that a proposal is afloat for annexing Seal Beach to Long Beach.

W. B. Miller, of Seal Beach, one of the active proponents of the bill and the move for annexation, reiterated former statements that identification of Seal Beach with Long Beach is vital to the future of the former and he asserted that consolidation of the two municipalities would be effective in bringing an era of prosperity to the smaller community and in making possible the execution of a program that would add to the taxable wealth of Orange county.

Asserting that amendments made to the bill had corrected many of the deficiencies in the measure as first introduced, Miller asked that the chambers assume a neutral position on the bill and the delegates complied with his request.

Local Briefs

The First Congregational church will hold an "Early Easter Service" at 7 a. m., on Easter morning. There will be music by the large chorus choir and a brief sermon by the minister, the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, on the topic, "Easter's Answer to Life's Questions."

The formal opening of the new banquet hall and lounge in the Santa Ana cafe is to be held Saturday night, April 6, according to C. J. Gibboney, owner. He will donate the women's auxiliary of the Jack Fisher post of Disabled American War Veterans the use of the hall and will provide musical features for that evening. Improvements made on the establishment have cost $11,700. A complete change has been made in the rooms vacated by the Hampton Brothers furniture dealers, making of them a lobby front of 18 by 25 feet.

The Grasshopper restaurant will have its formal opening in Santa Ana Saturday. The new establishment is located at the corner of Birch and Fourth streets and is under the management of F. E. Stillwell and George M. Andrich. Lunches and fountain service will be featured. Andrich has been manager of the popular Sunshine cafe in Orange for the last 17 years and Stillwell enters upon business in this city highly recommended from similar establishments in Oregon and the middlewest.

The union Good Friday service of Santa Ana churches will be held at 7:30 p. m., tonight, in the First Congregational church. The Rev. O. W. Reinius, pastor of the Richland Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will deliver the main address of the evening. The Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, minister of the Congregational church, will preside.

Special pre-Easter services will be held at 7:30 tonight in the chapel of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Cypress and Bishop streets. The pastor, the Rev. C. D. Hicks, will give an appropriate address, to be followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Services in the church Sunday will include an entertaining program of Easter significance, commencing at 10:45 a. m.

Henry J. Brubaker, president of the Illinois Society of Southern California, has called attention to the annual picnic of the members, to be held tomorrow in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. There will be speakers and musicians on the program following the basket dinner at noon, but emphasis has been placed on the fact that all talks will be short.

A recent item stated that the Placentia community picnic would be held at Irvine park Easter Sunday. The article should have read that the picnic was for all former residents of Arkansas, who are in California. This is the third Arkansas picnic to be held in Irvine park and W. C. Houck, of Placentia, is chairman of arrangements.

E. A. Mitchell, of Long Beach, purchased the stock and equipment of Hart's car market at 113 N. Sycamore street, from A. L. Hart.

Mr. Mitchell, having formerly lived in Santa Ana, managing two different Auto Finance company offices, is quite familiar with conditions here in Orange county, and feels that with the only store in the county specializing in nearly new cars, he can give the public real value for the price, and keep city buyers business at home.

OFFICIALS FIND NO TRACES OF FROZEN FRUIT

The present orange harvesting season has set a new record for co-operation between horticultural commissioners of Southern California, according to an announcement made today by Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock, of Orange county. For the first time on record, Brock stated, deputies of his office have found that oranges shipped in from other counties by truck have failed to show a single frozen orange.

This fact signifies a remarkable spirit of co-operation, Brock stated, pointing out that any frozen fruit detected was detained at its point of origin. Yesterday deputies stopped 11 trucks coming through the Santa Ana canyon and found that in each case the fruit was above requirements.

Yesterday Brock attended a meeting of horticultural commissioners at Riverside, at which an agreement was made for a change in the method of cutting fruit to determine its condition. Heretofore the hesperiden crystal cut has been used, revealing possible chemical changes in sugar content brought about by freezing. The new cut agreed on is the "drying out" cut, which is much less technical, according to Brock, but gives the same results in detecting possible frozen fruit. Horticultural Commisioners H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles county; A. E. Bottell, Riverside county, and John P. McCoy, San Bernardino county, also attended the session.

Santa Ana, Brea To Co-operate In Quest For Base

That Santa Ana and Brea will join hands in meeting a committee that will investigate sites offered for a dirigible base on the Pacific coast was indicated at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at St. Ann's Inn here, last night, when President H. H. Hale declared that the body had been requested to name a committee to meet with similar committees from the chambers of commerce in Santa Ana and Brea.

J. W. Carmichael, Fullerton, and Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, were named as the committee.

It is not known here whether the federal committee has been appointed or when it will come to the coast for inspection of the various sites that have been offered.

Suggestion was made that the county get solidly back of one of the two properties that have been submitted to the navy department. The Santa Ana site is on the Irvine ranch, east of the Martin airport. The Brea site is located just east of that city.

Chambers Indorse San Clemente As Site For Hospital

The Associated Chambers of Commerce, meeting here at St. Ann's Inn, last night, indorsed San Clemente for location of a veterans' hospital should the government decide to build such an institution here.

Capt. H. H. Hammer, of San Clemente, disclosed that San Clemente is conducting an organized campaign to have the hospital located there and he quoted William Murphy, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, as pledging his influence and support to San Clemente

TEXAS GUINAN CITES WHY OF MARITAL WOES

NEW YORK, March 29.—(UP)—Texas Guinan, night club hostess, now comes forward as an authority on husbands—especially discontented husbands and why they get that way.

Three kinds of wives—all the wrong kind—are responsible when husbands leave home. Texas believes. Her views are quoted in the current issue of Smart Set magazine.

"One kind slumps after marriage," analyzes Miss Guinan. "They allow their homes and themselves to become dull and colorless. If the husband likes a little life and gaiety now and then—and what man doesn't?—he has to find it outside the home.

"Other wives feel that they deserve a fling after they have accomplished marriage. Hubby is somebody to foot the bills and keep in the back ground. They rest all day and are ready to play around every night. If he is too tired to keep it up, or if he can't afford the pace, then that marriage is ready to go boom.

"Then there are the weeping wives, the 'if you go out tonight, I'm going home to mother' kind. Men marry because they are crazy about a girl and think she'll be a good pal for life. When she turns out to be a judge, jury and verdict hanger, the man drowns his disappointment in the night clubs or their equivalents."

The reason for most divorces, if you want the blonde Texas' opinion, is not that wives today don't take marriage seriously enough but that they take it too seriously.

"Most wives consider it a serious drama," she opines. "Men want the girl they love to be a playmate as well as a housekeeper and mother. A woman can be a good wife without being somber and important about it. A man likes to feel that he can count on his wife to revive a party when it is sinking. He wants his friends to like her, to envy him having her, to cause other men to say 'Let's go to your house.'"

"A man is just like a small boy with a prized marble about his wife. If she loses her luster and her charm, and turns mean on him, he wanders off to find something else. If wives would hang onto their laughs as grimly as they hang to their husbands, the world would be more serene and the divorce courts less crowded."

GREAT SUCCESS IS SCORED BY P.-T. PROGRAM

Scoring a success far in advance of their expectations, members of McKinley P.-A. A. today were recalling the many gratifying features in connection with the school entertainment which they presented last night in the Temple theater.

Ticket sales for the affair had indicated that a large crowd would be present, but scores of interested persons came with the intention of securing tickets at the box office and many of these were disappointed. City regulations against the sale of standing room forced those in charge to turn many disappointed patrons away, for every seat in the theater was taken.

Mrs. H. L. McKague, president of McKinley P.-T. A., and her aides, which included the teachers of the school as well as mothers in the organization, had bent every effort to make the evening interesting and the program was well received. The Frances Willard junior high school orchestra scored a success with its numbers and the acts which followed were interesting to a degree. Little children of the lower grades were effective in the charming playlet, "The Easter Party," in which they enacted such varied roles as Easter bunnies, flowers and other symbols of the season.

"The Spicerville School Picnic" was bright and amusing, with its characters drawn from the students of the upper grades. "Twelve Men, Tried and True," directed by Mrs. John Clarkson and presented by women of the organization, proved the main event. Characters in the skit were enacted by Mesdames Charles Carrillo, H. L. McKague, William Waddell, F. H. Heine, Thomas Lacy, F. Becker, Alvin Nowotney, E. E. Piper, William Wright, L. M. Pearson, Kenneth Stowe and Walter Adkins.

Pupils of Holly Lash Visel added interest to the program by their pretty songs and dances. Home-made candy, sold between the acts, proved a popular feature and added a nice sum to the total.

Much of the credit for the evening's success was due to Roy Bronson, according to Mrs. McKague, who said that Bronson had volunteered his services in stage management and lighting effects, making possible the smooth presentation of the entertainment.

VACATION WEEK PROGRAM AT Y. IS ANNOUNCED

Vacation fun for the boys will be provided by the Y. M. C. A. boys' departments next week, it is indicated in notices just sent to members.

Several "tournaments" have been arranged and the boys already are registering in considerable numbers for the events. Ping pong, table golf and handball are the three sports in which competition is being arranged. Attractive prizes are offered for the winners in the various games and for boys of different ages.

Those who expect to play in any of these events are signing the entry blanks in the office and they will be assigned to their particular playing time at once, it was declared today.

Three competitive swimming meets also will be held during the week. These will occur at 9:30 in the morning. Boys under 12 years of age will compete Wednesday morning, those from 12 to 14 on Thursday morning and boys of 14 and over on Friday morning.

In each of these swimming meets there will be a general swim period, followed by the competition, so that the boys who do not wish to compete may have their swim and fun first. Those who enter the meet and qualify will have a later opportunity to enter the All Southern California swimming meet, to be held this spring.

As a grand finale for the week's events, the boys of the Y. will be guests of the West Coast Walker theater on Saturday morning, April 6, when they will enjoy a picture, a short talk and a lively musical program.

The boys' department at the Y. will be open daily during vacation from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 at night.

DISMISS CASE AS JURORS DISAGREE

After an all-day session in police court yesterday, a jury, sitting in the case of M. W. Jackson, 2213 Towner street, Santa Ana, charged with possession of liquor, failed to reach a verdict and at 6 o'clock last night was dismissed.

The case against Jackson also was dismissed.

Officer C. V. Adams arrested Jackson several days ago on a charge of possession of liquor after 15 gallons were said to have been found in his home. In court Jackson denied that the liquor was his property. He was represented by Attorney D. G. Wettlin.

First Birthday To Be Observed By S. A. Yeomen

Since March 29 marks the first anniversary of the founding of Valencia homestead No. 6693, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, plans today were being completed for a fitting celebration of the first birthday at tonight's meeting of the order in Knights of Pythias hall.

Lodge will open at 8 o'clock and members will have as their guests representatives from Long Beach homestead, No. 1560, and Golden West homestead, No. 6600, both of Long Beach; Orange homestead, No. 2088, and Roma homestead, No. 2150, Anaheim.

There will be a program of music and dances with a playlet to be presented by members of the host organization. Refreshments will follow.

The meeting will be open to the public.

PURPOSES OF NEW AIR CLUB ARE EXPLAINED

L. B. Salisbury, of Santa Ana, president of a flying club unit now being organized here, announced today that further steps toward launching the organization would be taken at 8 p. m., next Monday, when members of the club and others interested in the project will meet at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

According to Salisbury, 10 subscribing members have joined the unit and a membership of 25 is possible. Lt. L. R. Ellis, of Santa Ana, instructor and former army pilot, will address the group on commercial flying rules and regulations. J. O. Yorke, aero-dynamic engineer and operator of a flying field on Long Beach boulevard, also will talk, while Pete Seidel, instructor, also will speak to the gathering.

According to plans announced by Salisbury, the club is to operate on a co-operative basis, with its chief objective that of teaching members to pilot planes. The Orange county airport will be the scene of operations for student pilots and instructors, Salisbury said. Eagle Rock commercial ships of the O X 5 type will be used for instruction flights. Students will be able to save $400 on obtaining a commercial flying license, according to Salisbury. Solo flying time while learning will cost only the expense of operating the ships, he said.

A thorough ground school course, conducted by J. O. Yorke, will be included in each membership and commercial rules and regulations will be strictly observed. The ground school course, Salisbury said, is one of the most complete and up-to-date ever offered in this country.

Although the club will be a unit of the Long Beach flying club, it will be subject to it in no way except that the experience of the Long Beach group will be available to the Santa Ana unit, Salisbury stated. He urged both men and women who may be interested in aviation, to attend the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. next Monday.

FIVE INJURED IN COLLISION AT LOS ALAMITOS

Five persons were injured at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a touring car and an Anaheim union high school bus collided at an intersection in Los Alamitos.

Mrs. Ethel Akers and two children, Edgar, 14, and Barbara Jean, 12 months, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Mabel Gibson, of Anaheim, riding in the touring car, suffered minor lacerations about the head. They were taken to the Seaside hospital in Long Beach and released this morning.

Evelyn Proffer, a student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Proffer, of Los Angeles, suffered a badly lacerated knee. She was taken to a physician by Charles Gillis and then removed to her home. The other students in the car were not hurt and were back in school today.

According to officers, no report of the accident has been made.

SALESMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF FRAUD

Linoleum, which measured less than it is alleged to have been sold for, yesterday afternoon caused the arrest of Arthur A. Nirenberg, 26, salesman, of 2750 Gonahl avenue, Los Angeles, by Santa Ana police officers.

Nirenberg is being held on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The complaining witness in the case is Mrs. Mary Hartman, of 1112 East First street. The arrest was made by Officers Foster and Wolford.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, March 29.—Martin De Vries, of Long Beach visited Mrs. Howard Erbe, of Hamilton street, Wednesday.

Clifford Belding, student at Stanford university, is home for the spring vacation with his mother, Mrs. R. A. Wellington, of College avenue and Avocado street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Archer and daughter, Joy, of Santa Ana, were visitors in the home of Mrs. B. A. Ewell Wednesday evening.

Easter assembly was held in the school auditorium this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Warren Kennedy read "The Broken Vessel."

A. N. Radabaugh, well known service station man of Newport boulevard and Virginia Place, was married recently to Daisy Winner, of Riverside. The ceremony took place in San Bernardino. Mr. and Mrs. Radabaugh will make their home in Costa Mesa.

EASTERN EDUCATOR ON RCA'S PROGRAM

One of the east's noted educators, Dr. Peter W. Dykema, will be the speaker for the RCA broadcast through stations associated with the NBC system from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Dykema is professor of music education in the teachers' college of Columbia university, New York. For years he has been a leader in musical activities in various positions of responsibility. He has written one book on music and collaborated in the preparation of several others. His subject for tonight's program will be announced during the broadcast.

Besides Dr. Dykema, the hour will bring before the microphone the RCA Orchestra under Max Dolin's direction, and two vocal soloists—Margaret O'Dea, contralto, and Edward Randal, baritone.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JAYSEE NOTES

Fifty-three members of the masculine element of the junior college have cast aside their aspirations of being the "collar ad shiek," as the popular hobby at the college for the next two months is to be that of developing mustaches for the mustache and beard growing contest which opened today. Five prizes are being offered by the O. K. club of the college for various arrangements of the hirsute adornment, the first for the best combination, the second for the best mustache, the third for the best beard, the fourth for the most unique combination and fifth as consolation for the shortest and scrawniest. All entrants were to shave at 8 a. m., today, and allow their beards to grow until April 17, when professional barbers will judge the contestants in assembly.

That the sophomore class of the junior college will give a gift to the college upon its graduation in June was the unanimous decision of members of the class when it met recently in College hall. A committee appointed to investigate the matter already has received suggestions of a glass inclosed show case and the development of the student center. Members of the committee include Melva Fletcher, Adelaide Mueller, Leonard Morris and Roderick Smiley.

Discussion on topics relating to social and religious problems are being furthered among the junior college students through the recent organization of a discussion group under the leadership of E. M. Nealley and Mrs. John Tessmann, members of the college faculty.

Bob Thompson and his nine-piece orchestra appeared on the assembly program of the junior college Wednesday afternoon. The program was arranged by Willard White. Carol Bertolet and Charles Haas gave several vocal selections.

Tryouts for the National Intercollegiate Oratorical contest among students of the junior college are to be held on April 10, according to an announcement by C. C. Stewart, debating and forensic coach of the college. Students judged the best by the faculty of the college are to represent Santa Ana junior college in the contest to be held in Bovard auditorium of the University of Southern California, where the regional semi-finals are scheduled to occur. Students who will enter the contest include Thelma Dugan, Arthur Groos and Paul Mueller.

"The Fortune Teller," three-act comic opera by Victor Herbert, is to be presented by the junior college and high school music departments on May 5 as the culminating musical event of the school year, according to reports from the junior college today. Leading roles have been issued to Miss Melva Fletcher, who will sing the part of Museth Irma, and Clark Brown, who is to portray the part of the Ladislas. Other members of the cast include Doyle Stockton, as Fresco; Carol Bertolet, as Count Bergerowski; Les Stephenson, as Lauder; Earl Jessee, as Boris; Hazel Smith, as Pom Pom, and Ruth Lalone, as Vanika.

That John Stephen McGroarty, author of the Southern California Mission Play, will speak before the students of the junior college at the Fiesta on May 17 was announced today by J. W. Roach, chairman of the Fiesta committee. McGroarty was secured through the efforts of D. K. Hammond, president of the college. The contest for the Don and Dona, king and queen of the Fiesta, is to be conducted by the Associated Women Students of the college.

INSPECT THEATER

ORANGE, March 29. — Walter Smith and Virgil Wales, of Los Angeles, were in Orange today in regard to the installation of seats in the new theater.

There will be 1000 seats installed. It is expected that the theater will open about May 1.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson and daughter were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snasdell. The visitors, who are former local residents, are of Whittier. Mr. Anderson is at present crippled with an injured foot, two toes having been broken in a recent accident.

Dr. and Mrs. Charvet, of San Bernardino, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Albert Steck, and their children were Sunday visitors from San Bernardino in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steck.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gish, of Los Nietos, were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Arnold and on Sunday the two couples motored to Lake Elsinore.

Mrs. Will Scribner has returned from Santa Barbara where she has been visiting.

Mrs. Whitefield, mother of Mrs. Mitchell, is very low in her home in Huntington Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Littell, of Santa Ana, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Littell's brother, W. W. Blaylock and family. Other recent guests in the Blaylock home were Mr. Blaylock's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Johnson, of Hawthorne.

Mrs. G. C. Finlayson is confined to her home with an injured knee. Mrs. Finlayson's ankle turned, causing her to fall and strike the knee cap on the pavement.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Vandruff enjoyed having all of their daughters and members of their families with them over the week end. Those coming home for the visit were Dr. and Mrs. Perry Hurst, Miss Marie Vandruff and Miss Opal Vandruff, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Greer and their two children, of Bellflower, and Miss Alma Vandruff, of Long Beach.

Oceanview school was well represented at the general tract meet held by elementary schools at Huntington Beach and a number of ribbons were won by local boys. Those receiving awards were Kenneth Vandruff, allace Blaylock, Wilbert Elly and David Gardner, first in the junior relay race; Kenneth Vandruff, Wallace Blaylock, second in high jump; Wallace Blaylock, second in broad jump; John Pryor, second in 60-yard dash, third in broad jump; Coy Rogers, second in senior class broad jump; Gerald McMillan, third in high jump in senior class. Fermin Hernandez, and Boyd Coker were among the boys who tied for third place in the high jump, bidget class.

Other boys who entered from the Oceanview school were Floyd McCullah, Woodrow Frost, Ruel Moulton, Homer Slater and Harley Asari.

An assembly is being arranged for Oceanview school for next Friday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock and the program is to be presented by Mrs. Tracy's room and the first grade Americanization class taught by Miss Woodward.

A basketball game was played Thursday evening on Oceanview school court between the women teachers of the school and members of the Parent-Teacher association. The score was 6 to 8 in favor of the teachers.

Mrs. M. C. Hazard has received a silk shawl of Chinese make from her son, Gray Hazard, who is located with the marines at Caviat, Philippine islands. Hazard wrote his mother that the shawl is a belated Christmas present. He having purchased it in China for that purpose just as his company was ordered to the islands

A number from Wintersburg attended a card party given Wednesday evening in Huntington Beach by the Junior Woman's club, the receipts going to the tuberculosis ward of the county health camp. Those attending from here were Mrs. Henry Snasdell, Mrs. Atto Irwin, Mrs. W. P. Treece, Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Talbert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Miss Williamae Adams, Miss Fern Feaster and Miss Winifred Woodard. The last three assisted in serving at the refreshment hour.

Four of the local visitors, Aleck Kerr, Mrs. Treece, Miss Feaster and Miss Woodward were among the prize winners.

Mrs. Otto Irwin, Mrs. Conrad Worthy and Mrs. W. P. Treece visited Mrs. J. T. Holt at the Anaheim hospital Thursday. Mrs. Holt, who recently underwent a major operation, is convalescing satisfactorily. Mrs. Holt's mother from Los Angeles is caring for the home in her absence.

Junior Mooseheart members are looking forward to the Easter party which the Mooseheart members are giving for them next Wednesday evening at Antler's hall, Huntington Beach.

HEALTHIEST CHILDREN

Thelma Svarstad, 17 years old, of North Dakota, and William Tobias, 15 years old, of Michigan, were adjudged the healthiest children in the United States in a nation-wide competition held during the International Stock Show in Chicago recently. Neither of these young people has ever been ill. They are used to plenty of exercise and work, eat a sensible, regular diet and neither one of them has ever tasted tea or coffee.

Adds Life to Your Years

"You know," says Arthur O'Malley, Carson Hill, Calif., "I would like you to broadcast this. I suffered from kidney and rheumatic trouble until Foley Pills diuretic relieved me entirely, and I want other sick people to know about them. They added enjoyment to my life, and cut out the pain and gloom." Take Foley Pills, a reliable, valuable medicine, constantly in use over 25 years. Try this for backache, rheumatic pains and swellings, "tired out" feeling and disturbed sleep.—Parsons Drug Co., corner Broadway and 4th Sts.; Hinkley Pharmacy, corner Main St. and Washington avenue.—Adv.

NEW TONGUE HAS ONLY 500 WORDS

LONDON, March 29.—A universal language consisting of 500 words is the desire of Prof. C. K. Ogden, whose aim, as he calls it, is to "debabelise" the world's speech.

In a recent issue of the magazine Psyche he prints a list of scientifically selected words "to form an international auxiliary language—a second language—for all who do not already speak English."

This list of words he calls Panoptic English, because the whole of this new language can be printed on the back of a sheet of notepaper, and "can be seen at a glance." It is divided into the following groups: Operators, necessary name, qualifiers, common things, and opposites.

The new language can be learned in about a month, he thinks, though the full program of scientific "debabelisation" may take a hundred years to carry out.

Experiments with the new vocabulary have been surprisingly successful. Specimens of diplomatic writing, such as the Kellogg note, have been "translated" with convincing thoroughness.

MRS. HOOVER GREETS "EVANGELINE GIRLS"

Among the first gifts to be received by the Hoovers at the White House were a home-made bedspread, a blanket and rugs—the work of the Acadians in Louisiana—which were presented by Mrs. A. A. Anding of Opelousas, La., president of the Longfellow-Evangeline National Park Memorial association. Here are the girls who made the presentation to Mrs. Hoover. Left to right are Miss Mildred Schell, Miss Lucille Newlin, Mrs. Hoover, Miss Monita Gary and Miss Pearl Anding.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, March 29.—C. L. McGill, manager of the Brown and Dauser Lumber company, La Habra, is in the Murphy Memorial hospital in Whittier with influenza. His condition is not considered serious.

The condition of Mrs. Mark Moore, who has been very low for the past week, is reported improved.

Elliott brothers have established a used car department on the R. W. George lot on West Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jackson, of Los Angeles, are staying with the former's brother, E. M. Jackson, on East Florence avenue. They expect to locate here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers spent two days this week visiting friends in Santa Barbara.

Miss Irene Zebrist left Monday for her home in Highland, Ill., after six months' visit with relatives here.

W. A. Linsdel, who has been ill in the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, is reported to be improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durnbaugh and daughter of Chula Vista, are spending the week with Mrs. Durnbaugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Ansley.

Miss Ruth Estabrook, of El Segundo, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Estabrook.

Alden Snow, of Ocean avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Snow, who is a student in Whittier college, is confined to his room in the college with a badly fractured limb and a severe laceration above the right eye as the result of an accident which occurred Monday morning in Whittier, when the motorcycle which he was riding was struck by a car driven by H. Hile, of Orange, on Telegraph road.

The flying helmet worn by Snow is all that saved him from more severe head injuries, it is believed. Snow has several pupils whom he is instructing in aviation while making his way through college. The young man's injuries will confine him to his room for a few weeks but are not believed to be serious.

OLIVE

OLIVE, March 29.—Julius Hecke and Harvey Sykes have returned from a 10-day trip to Crescent City, Calif. Combining pleasure with business they drove on into Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Feemster and children and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Feemster motored to San Dimas Sunday to join other relatives in the celebration of the 75th birthday of Mr. Feemster's father.

Mr. and Mrs.. Theo Mieger and Mr. and Mrs. Don Feemster called on Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tackett in their new home on the Olive ranch Tuesday evening.

The Misses Velma Heim, Esther Heim, Florence Heim, Clara Heim, Meta Paulus and Elmer Heim attended a house warming party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henning in Anaheim Tuesday evening. Mrs. Henning was Minnie Lemke, of Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wishnack and her mother, Mrs. A. H. Hutton, and sister, Miss Grace Hutton, went to Long Beach Saturday evening to call on her aunt, Mrs. R. R. Filkens, who is leaving for Colorado to be at the bedside of a sister. Mrs. Hutton also may leave for Colorado.

EASTER CANTATA OFFERING OF KGO

A sacred cantata, with the music adapted to the life of Christ, will be given by the KGO mixed quartet over the General Electric station from 10 to 11 o'clock tonight.

This lyric drama is entitled "Olivet to Calvary" and is from the facile pen of Maunder. It is one of the most popular of Eastertide presentations and is particularly well known for its solo parts, the melodies of which are very beautiful.

RADIATING with the Radio Editor

We don't know where The NBC picked
Up this fellow Sen Kaney,
Or where it ever
Got the idea that he Could announce
Fights, but we do know,
After listening in Over KOA, Denver,
Last night, to his Account of the Loughran-Walker
Fisticuffs engagement,
That we'll junk our set
Before ever forcing Ourselves to listen to Him again—
'He was terrible'—
Those three words should
Be sufficient to Explain the stuttering,
Stammering,
Walker-biased and (after The fight) Walker-alibiing
Description he Attempted to give of the Chicago set-to—
We never would have Listened in to
The entire fight if it
Hadn't been for
Our desire to hear the Official verdict at the Close of the Tenth round, for, even Though Kaney's halting Words led us to Believe that Walker was Pounding Loughran to
A pulp, we thought, perhaps,
His idea might differ
From that of the Referee and judges—
And it did, for, as
You know, now, Tommy, after Taking that 'severe Beating about the Mid-section,' survived and
Was awarded the Decision—
Kaney also had us
Believing that
The fight was a rarin',
Tearin' whirlwind
Of action, for he Continually reminded us
That he couldn't
For the life of him
Understand how those two Boys could set such
A speedy pace
Throughout—
Yet the news dispatches
Today hint that
The battle was a tame
Affair, with neither Fighter extending himself—
"Walker never gets
The worst of anything
In Chicago," they Say, and Kaney, we guess,
Was trying to live
Up to the Windy City's Reputation in that Respect, even if the Judge's did take their Lives in their hands
And give voice to their Convictions that Tommy Loughran still was Light heavyweight
Champion of the world—

Philco Program Will Bring More Broadway Tunes

Jessica Dragonette and Colin O'More are to go adventuring along Broadway again tonight between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, Pacific standard time, to entertain the NBC system audiences tuned in for the half-hour transcontinental broadcast of the Philso program.

These two vocalists sing leading roles in radio musical comedies written especially for them, incorporating songs from the popular successes of the past and the present.

The Philco program will be heard on the Pacific coast through stations KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KGO, Oakland; KPO, San Francisco, and KFI, Los Angeles.

SECRETARY WILBUR GOES BEFORE MIKE

Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur will be the second member of President Hoover's cabinet to be heard during the "Half Hour with the Senate" programs broadcast weekly through a coast-to-coast network of NBC system statinos. Secretary Wilbur, brother of former Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, will speak between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, Pacific standard time, tonight.

He is expected to give a talk of general interest, probably describing the duties assigned to various departments of the interior.

The second speaker will be Senator T. H. Caraway, a Democrat, of Arkansas. "What Woes the Country Expect of the Democratic Party During This Administration?" will be his subject.

KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KGO, Oakland, and KPO, San Francisco, will release the program.

Attorneys' Work Investigated By U. S. Department

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(UP)—A national survey of the government's law enforcement activities in every United States attorney's office is being conducted by the justice department, Attorney General Mitchell disclosed today.

The object of the study, Mitchell explained, is to determine the efficiency of United States attorneys throughout the nation with a view of making changes in personnel and expediting government prosecutions.

Results of the survey will be submitted to President Hoover for consideration by the commission he will appoint to make a national crime survey.

HANSEN

HANSEN, March 29.—One of the most enjoyable recent events at Hansen was given by Mrs. John Burch for her son, John Burch jr., on the occasion of his seventh birthday, Saturday, at the attractive Burch home on Ball road. Easter nests were hunted by the little folks during the afternoon before luncheon was served. Guests attending the affair were Ellen Jane Peters, Winette Hansen, Georgena Nordstrom, Helen Eckert, Wanda Hylton, Johanna Bressel, Le Roy Miser, David Jones, Edward Burch, Jr. Hylton and several other children of John Burch jr. The girls of the eighth grade of the Savanna school, Marie Eckert, Fredda Sawtelle and Vivian Hylton assisted the little ones in their games and helped the hostess serve ice cream and cake at the prettily appointed table.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nordstrom and two children, of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Birt and son, Tommy, of Huntington Park, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nordstrom, coming to help Mrs. Nordstrom celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Nordstrom served a delicious chicken dinner. Two large angel food cakes were served as birthday cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Atwater entertained relatives on Sunday at a family gathering. Those present were Mrs. Atwater's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McGarvin and their three daughters, of Long Beach; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harris, and her three brothers, Tom, Albert and J. W. Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and two sons.

Students of the Savanna school went to Villa Park, Tuesday afternoon, to practice for the track meet. Mrs. Fitts of the intermediate room has been sick for a few days and Miss Michel, of Santa Ana, is taking her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ketchem and daughter, Harriet, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Gualrapp, of Glendale, and Mrs. Gaulrapp's mother, Mrs. Knok, of Dixon, Ill., were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McInnis. One evening recently, Mr. and Mrs. McInnis has as callers Mrs. H. H. Maggerty and Mrs. G. Cole, of Buena Park.

Hector Cloverio is having moving picture shows at the Savanna school building every Thursday evening. The attendance last week was good.

A. Z. Delzell and his mother, Mrs. L. B. Delzell, of Los Angeles, called on Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burch Sunday. One evening recently, Mr. and Mrs. W. Marsching, of Westminster, were callers at the Burch home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Heinrick, of Artesia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Winney.

Mrs. H. H. Hammond visited her daughter, Mrs. A. F. Bingeman, of Van Nuys, the first of the week.

J. Moomaw and daughter, of Long Beach, drove out to call on Grandma Bowman, who has been quite feeble, on a recent evening.

Mrs. J. H. Miser had as Sunday dinner guests her mother, Mrs. Nellie Benson and her two brothers, Paul and Lee Benson.

Mrs. W. H. Morgan and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bowman, have been regular attendants at the revival services at the First Brethren church at Long Beach. The meetings are to continue until Easter.

AMERICAN TROOPS GUARDING BORDER

40 USED CARS MUST GO
NOW YOUR REAL OPPORTUNITY

PRICES NO OBJECT

The boss said, "Clean house, get rid of the whole bunch—don't permit a single one to stick around." And, he meant just what he said. So it is up to us to make good—we took the list of cars he gave us with the prices he had fixed and we AGAIN REDUCED PRICES to make certain this spring house-cleaning event would be successful. We have now exceeded our authority by making a second price slash, but we are not a bit worried, because we know he will be satisfied when we sell the cars, and that is just what we are going to do. If bedrock prices on golden values in used cars will sell cars, then this spring housecleaning event is going to prove to be the biggest thing of its kind that ever happened in Orange County. And, when you visit our big used car store, you will be pleasantly surprised to find no price see-sawing—every car bears a tag on which its price is written in plain figures. We are prepared to trade, too—if you have a car, perhaps it will serve as a full down payment. Special terms, too, will be extended this week. Don't hesitate. Come in immediately and choose your car while the range of choice is greatest.

Anaheim Councilman Hits City Water System Report

OBJECTIONS OF LAKEMAN FAIL TO HALT ACTION

ANAHEIM, March 29.—The calm usually in evidence at the meetings of the Anaheim city council was lacking last night, when Councilman Jacob Lakeman voiced emphatic objections to the city's acceptance of the report on the city water works system, made by Burns, McDowell and Smith, a Kansas City firm of engineers with branch offices in Los Angeles.

Lakeman objected to the report, for which the engineers are to receive the sum of $1000, on the grounds that it consisted solely of figures, obtained largely from the city's records. The actual conditions of the mains and the supply tank should be known and the engineers should have drained and examined the tank, he asserted.

Councilman A. W. Franzen said that the mains could not be dug up. Lakeman disagreed with this statement and contended that the report was not complete. The engineers of Anaheim could have made a more comprehensive report, he declared.

Councilman W. P. Grafton stated that he believed that the report embodied a comprehensive plan and that it gave the city an outline of the present system and the future need of the city. It included, he said location of hydrants, valves, mains and the water pressure at various points in the city.

Mayor L. E. Miller asked V. W. Hannum, city water works superintendent, to speak on the report. Hannum stated that while the tank had not been drained, static pressure had been tested and the drop in pressure checked when hydrants were opened. City records were used, it was said, as the basis of the engineers' survey.

Lakeman declared that no records were available in determining when some of the pipe had been laid.

In response to a request made by the mayor, City Engineer E. P. Hapgood stated that the engineers had worked from his office for but two weeks and had worked out the city for about the same period of time.

On a motion made by Councilman Franzen and seconded by Grafton, the report was accepted, Councilman Lakeman casting the only dissenting vote.

...s In Stomach ...se Indigestion

...e Sourness, Gas and Pain. How To Treat

...ical authorities state that nea...ne-tenths of the cases of stom...h trouble, indigestion, sourness, ...rning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., ...e due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, stops the formulation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by millions of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

Seal Beach Glee Clubs To Present Operetta In April

SEAL BEACH, March 29.—The glee clubs of the grammar school are working on an operetta to be given the latter part of April entitled, "Tad's Inspiration." The harmonica band will lend assistance in the production. Members of the cast are George Hopkins, Ethel Slayton, Audrey Armstrong, Junior Morris, Jean Wheat, Fairy Chafin, Marcell Glenn, Bob Benno, Robert Scott, Wilbur Hussey and Harold Gillette.

REPORTS GIVEN AT HARBOR CONFERENCE

NEWPORT BEACH, March 29.—The meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce and the harbor committee of 15 was held at the Green Dragon inn in Balboa Wednesday noon.

The reports of the city engineer was submitted and the map showing the soundings of the entrance channel studied. The special harbor improvement committee reported, bringing the conditions of the harbor bill up to date. The committee on Corona del Mar road was given more time.

After considerable discussion, the members expressed a desire to consider the matter before voting to recommend any particular line of action. The meeting was adjourned until Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ATHLETE TO VISIT PARENTS IN ORANGE

ORANGE, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Workman, of 995 North Batavia street, are expecting their son, James, home Saturday to spend a day of the spring vacation with them. Young Workman is a member of the boat crew of the University of California at Berkeley. He was a member of the crew that rowed to victory in the Olympic races last year.

Beach Twins In Latest Contest

SEAL BEACH, March 29.—Seal Beach will have two entrants in the Long Beach twin contest. One has a birthday on Christmas eve, December 24, and the other on Christmas day, December 25, though Pete is just an hour older than his twin.

The boys are now five years old. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hliding Valentine Ekberg, both former residents of Sweden. Each boy received one of his father's names, Pete Hilding Ekberg and Jack Valentine Ekberg.

GLIDER FLIGHT SCHEDULED AT SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, March 29.—Dale Drake, member of the Long Beach Glider club and holder of the world record for a tow of 200 miles behind an airplane, will attempt to break the American record of 10 minutes for sustained flight after a takeoff from the ground at San Clemente, April 6 and 7. The 10-minute record was established by the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk in 1903, when they were experimenting with gliders in developing a power-driven airplane.

Taking off from the 2000-foot hills three miles back of San Clemente, Drake hopes to take advantage of the upward currents created by the hills and to coast slowly down to the beach, where the wind against the steep cliffs is expected to extend the period of his flight.

Flying from this location, Drake is building his expectations of a high record on the results of an experiment before landing at the Grand Central Air terminal in Glendale a week ago today.

Arrangements for the San Clemente attempt were made recently by Drake and his manager, H. M. Willis jr. Willis was one of Drake's assistants in financing and building the glider at Reedley, Calif.

The record will be officially checked by the Long Beach Glider club, which is forming the Western Gliding association. Drake will repeat his attempts in the two days and will take the best record he can make.

Drake already holds the Pacific Coast record of five minutes and five seconds of flight.

GARDEN GROVE CLUB HEARS S. A. JUSTICE

GARDEN GROVE, March 29.—Judge Kenneth Morrison, of Santa Ana, gave the principal talk at the Lions club bungalow Wednesday. Walt Wentz was in charge of the program.

Judge Morrison spoke on "Crime" and the duty of a citizen to cooperate in the elimination of crime.

Mr. Wentz gave a vocal solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wentz.

LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gomez and daughter, Mary, have returned to Laguna Beach after several months at Globe, Ariz. During their absence, Mrs. Gomez and Mary were ill. Mr. Gomez is with the Lippincott Motor company.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry McCullough were visited this week by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McCullough, parents of the former, who have been touring California for several weeks.

Mrs. Addie Sheehan has purchased a house at Monterey street in Arch Beach after living in this city for six months.

Mrs. Virginia Clark had as guests this week, Miss Florence Bariel, Miss Anna Lodge and Mrs. William Lodge, old friends from Chicago. They are occupying the Tilton cottage on the cliffs.

Mrs. Grace Stephenson and mother, Mrs. A. Thompson, plan to spend the Easter vacation in their old home in Westwood.

A benefit for the piano fund is being planned in the school house in May by Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, assisted by Miss Ruth Oaks, harpist.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holmes Paul have moved into their redecorated studio home on Highland way. Though they purchased the place some time ago, they have been living in Costa Mesa while the house here was undergoing remodeling and redecorating.

Barbara and William Jenison, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Daniell, visiting the latter for several months, have given a large Monterey cypress to be planted on the school grounds as part of the April 12 Arbor day program.

Mrs. Walter Stromerson, who is visiting with her parents, Chief and Mrs. Abe Johnson, had Mr. and Mrs. Walter Condren, of Los Angeles, as guests Sunday. Mrs. Dick Thompson, of Riverside, formerly of Laguna, also visited Mrs. Stromerson.

Robert Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Marshall, has returned from a visit to Banning.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Heisler are planning an extensive European trip, expecting to leave about the first of April.

Mrs. Louise Henshaw is expected back soon in Laguna after being in the countries bordering the Mediterranean. She left here in January, accompanied by Mrs. Ella June LaPiere. The latter is stopping in Illinois for a visit before returning to this city.

Mrs. Raymond I. Brahams has been in Pasadena for several days, called to that city by the illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice B. McMillan left Thursday for a few months in Europe. They are taking their car and will join Mr. and Mrs. Bernard St. Clair, who preceded them by two weeks.

Planner Is Chosen By City Board

ANAHEIM, March 29.—John Neuschafer was appointed a member of the city planning commission at a meeting of the city council last night. Neuschafer will take the place of Ben Stroup, whose resignation was accepted at the same meeting.

The contract of Shipkey and Pearson for supplying the city with road oil was approved.

A statement from George J. Petty of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company was that the receipts of the company in Anaheim from March 28, 1928, to February 28, 1929, inclusive, had not exceeded $65,887.94. A check for two per cent of this sum due the city for the company's franchise amounted to $1317.76 and was paid. A sum paid by the Southern California Gas company from two per cent of the total receipts from this company in the city totaled $1648.

SAN CLEMENTE VOTES SEWER SYSTEM PIPE

SAN CLEMENTE, March 29.—After weeks of investigation the city council of San Clemente at its special meeting Wednesday evening voted for vitrified pipe in the construction of the Spanish village sewer. The decision in favor of the clay pipe came after an investigation that took in the principal cities of California, Oregon and Washington.

Hearing of protests and a resolution ordering the work will come up April 17, while the notice inviting bids is scheduled for April 19 and April 26. Bids will be opened and contract awarded on May 1, according to the present schedule of City Engineer W. A. Ayers. Ayers states that the first ground for the sanitary sewer will be broken sometime in the first week of June.

The council appointed Police Chief Forest J. Eaton to assist the chamber of commerce in its plans for taking care of the crowds on April 6 and 7, when Dale Drake, nationally known glider expert, will attempt to set a new glider record in San Clemente.

TALBERT

TALBERT, March 29. — Boy Scouts of Talbert made arrangements at their meeting recently to take an outing trip to Trabuco canyon the first of April to spend three days camping. Scoutmaster Prof. Howard Harper, principal of the local school, will accompany them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stomeacre of the Nimrocks tract are the parents of a baby daughter.

The Rev. S. L. Jones was called Thursday evening to Norwalk, his wife, who has been ill for several weeks in the home of their daughter, having suffered a relapse. Mrs. Jones was taken to a Los Angeles hospital Friday for an operation.

Frank Page on Thursday moved his well drilling outfit to the ranch of Dr. Castle, northeast of town, where a well on the ranch is to be cleaned out. If not found equal to furnishing a water supply for the alfalfa fields a new well will be drilled.

S. E. Talbert, local housemover, has his house moving crew employed at Dominguez, where three houses which have been sold by the Alamitos Sugar company, are being moved.

The funeral of W. A. Patterson, who 15 years ago was a local resident, was held Thursday in Whittier, his death having occurred Tuesday in a Los Angeles hospital. Mr. Patterson and family when in Talbert resided on the Lamb ranch, where Mr. Patterson farmed sugar beets. The family resides near San Diego. Mrs. Patterson and four daughters and one son survive him.

Those attending the funeral from Talbert were John Pope, Miss Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Isenor, Fred Pope and Meb Coker.

John Pope and Miss Smith visited for a day in Long Beach, where they were guests of Mr. Pope's mother, Mrs. Ann Pope.

No announcement of intentions to make the race for the school board to fill the vacancy on the board which takes place with the expiration of the term of Harry Fulton have been made. Mr. Fulton has been requested to serve again, having for 11 consecutive years been a member of the board.

Short Talk By a Thoughtful Mother

A California (Long Beach) Mother speaks: "Only a mother who has passed through anxious nights of fear of croup, hearing that hoarse, croupy cough constantly, can appreciate our feeling of gratitude toward Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It stopped Junior's dreadful cough the first night he took it and it was a great relief to see him drop into a quiet sleep." Good also for whooping cough, measles cough and heavy, wheezy breathing. Sold and recommended everywhere. —Parsons Drug Co., corner 4th and Broadway; Hinkley's Pharmacy, corner Main St. and Washington avenue.—Adv.

SELECT CAST OF FULLERTON COLLEGE PLAY

FULLERTON, March 29.—The cast for "The Thirteenth Chair," the Fullerton junior college freshman plan, was announced today by Mrs. Esther C. Litchfield, dramatics coach.

The leading role of Rosalie will be carried by Miss Eloise Evans and Miss Loraine Reader. Other leading roles will be carried by Miss Yvonne Irwin, Helen; Collins Smith, Will Crosby; William Massey, Donahue; Jack Harmony, Mr. Crosby; and Lloyd Riutcel, Mason.

Other members of the cast are Miss Lilah Schulte, Mrs. Crosby; Miss Marcelina Arroues, Miss Eastwood; Miss Vera Stull, Miss Erskine; Miss Peggy Shultz, Miss Standish; Dean Burney, Wales; Gerald Rapp, Standish; Lowell Myers, Trent; Edward Bonkoski, Pollock; and Tom Hunter, Dunn.

The cast will start rehearsals immediately after spring vacation and the play will be presented May 3 and 4 in the high school auditorium.

The production is a three-act mystery play.

2500 PAY VISIT TO L. B. GALLERY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 29.—Since the opening of the new art gallery of the Laguna Beach Art association February 16, not less than 2500 visitors have been in the building. The first Sunday following the opening brought 260 visitors and the opening day resulted in the sale of catalogs to the total of nearly $50. During the first week sales of catalogs and entrance fees collected brought the association a total of over $95.

Members of the association are not required to pay any admission fee to the gallery. The membership is made up largely of non-artists who assist in the support of the gallery.

Sunday marks the end of the first exhibition in the new gallery. It will then be closed while the new exhibit is being hung.

Lions Of Orange Elect April 25

ORANGE, March 29.—Earl Morrow, of Santa Ana, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday. K. E. Watson was the chairman of the day.

Election of officers will be held April 25, it was announced following a report of the nominating committee. Several nominees are in the field for each of the elective offices.

COLLEGE ADDS NEW COURSES FOR FALL TERM

FULLERTON, March 29.—Announcement of the addition of 26 courses in the Fullerton junior college was received today from Dean W. F. Boyce of the junior college. These subjects, which were not available to students this year, will be offered next year.

These courses will total 92 units of undergraduate work. They will be mostly vocational subjects with the view of aiding students who do not plan to do upper division work.

A group of subjects will be given to permit individual progress. These are: Perspective water color, musicianship, airplane, engine drawing, advanced cabinet making, advanced work shop practice and advanced draftsmanship.

New vocational courses are in electricity, theory of advertisement, advertising and salesmanship.

High school recommended students will be offered theory and technique of acting, bacteriology, physiology, economic history of the United States, money and banking, public finance.

The shop department will open a number of practical projects to students interested.

70 AT DINNER FOR ORANGE GUARDSMEN

ORANGE, March 29.—Seventy were present at a dinner given in American Legion hall Wednesday night for those interested in the new national guard unit formed here recently. A number of prominent army officers were guests of honor on the occasion.

Talks were made by General Walter B. Storey of the 79th brigade, Major Colus of the 10th division, Captain Jackson of the 160th regiment, Captain Winans, of Santa Ana, Captain St.Remie, who was 37 years in service in the French marines, Lieutenant Wonderlink and Captain Ray Smith, of Anaheim.

Men present formed a mess line and marched to their places at the tables to martial music furnished by the Santa Ana American Legion and bugle corp., Fifteen officers were seated at one table. Dinner was served by the Anaheim Legion auxiliary. Old songs that had been sung in France were enjoyed, Mrs. Jess Coe playing the accompaniments.

Officers of the new unit were introduced. Lynn Chunning is captain and H. E. Chambers first lieutenant. But 10 or 15 men are needed to complete the unit, it was announced.

WATER SPORTS ON NEWPORT PROGRAM

NEWPORT BEACH, March 29.—Water sports were features yesterday in the Collegiate week entertainment.

At 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock tonight there will be two prize dancing contests at the Balboa pavilion.

On Easter Sunday there will be an egg hunt at Newport.

Monday will bring around another water sports contest.

Ebell Group To Meet On Tuesday In Tustin Home

TUSTIN, March 29. — Members of the Tustin Literature section of the Ebell club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Perry Lewis, Main street and Newport road, Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock and the program will be in charge of Mrs. Howard Wassum and Mrs. E. A. Noe.

EGG HUNT FOR BEACH CITIES EASTER SUNDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, March 29.—As a feature of the Collegiate week program being carried out at Newport and Balboa, the merchants of the Newport section are staging a big Easter egg hunt Easter Sunday at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Over 300 eggs will be buried in the beach sands at that time immediately west of the Newport pier. Each egg will bear the name of a merchant who will redeem it, and the article for which it will be redeemed. The finders of the eggs will win everything from hamburger sandwiches to drug store sundries. A similar hunt was held a couple of years ago at Newport and proved to be a great success.

As many of the schools and colleges will have their spring vacation during the coming week, the prize dance contests and water sports which have been conducted by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce during the present week will be repeated next week.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TOMORROW MORNING will herald the advent of the GRASSHOPPER, at the S. W. corner of Fourth and Birch streets, Santa Ana. This is not a cafe, neither is it a cafeteria, but just a mighty good place for folks who are hungry or thirsty—something different. The owners have endeavored to so arrange the layout as to make it a high speed, low cost establishment, where good things to eat and drink always will be available. Tables and chairs are provided for leg-weary guests who wish to relax while partaking of their mid-day meal; there are stools for those who wish to eat at the counter, and ample standing room for those who are so minded. Here you will find plenty of room where you will not be irritated by the squeeze-in process or knocking elbows with each other.

A big feature will be our mid-day luncheon from 11 A. M. to 2:30 P. M. Other special features will be Maier's "Select" on draught, drawn through clean pipes, at 5c per large glass; and our 5c hamburgers which we propose to make famous. We also are prepared to make about every other kind of sandwich known to the human race, and are stressing on the "Grasshopper" (hot) sandwich.

The extremely popular Sunfreeze ice cream in any style will be served here, and we believe you will be greatly pleased with a "Grasshopper" sundae. You also can procure Sunfreeze by the pint, quart, brick, Eskimo pie, Sunfreeze cups, cones, malted milk as well as candy and cigars.

We take pleasure in stating "the latch string hangs out"—we bid you welcome.

Try It Once

PREDICTS LONG LIFE SPAN FOR 1929 FLAPPERS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 29.—(UP) — Petting parties, gin drinking, cigaret smoking and riotous living may be dangerous to the California flapper, but they aren't cutting down her span of life.

In fact, she's getting more healthy and hearty, and is living longer than her big brother.

This is the answer to L. E. Ross, chief of the state bureau of vital statistics, to repeated warnings by long-haired critics of the present-day flapper that her sinful ways will result in decreasing the lead of women over men in dying of old age.

For years the sheltered life led by women was regarded as the chief element responsible for longevity, by leading medical authorities.

But the 1929 "life expectancy" table for California, by which Ross can make a few calculations and tell you how long you will live, discloses that at the age of 15--generally regarded as the beginning of the flapper stage—a girl may expect to live 48 years longer, or a total of 63 years.

Four years later when these same young women are beginning to discard some of their flapper ways, they may be assured of living at least to the age of 64.

The life expectancy for men at the same age is exactly five years less.

From statistics compiled by Ross in his death report for the last year it is shown that fewer baby girls die than boys. Only 955 girls as compared to 1211 boys died in early infancy last year.

As in the past more women than men died of old age. Of the 600 persons that died 325 were women and 277 men. Sheltered life of this generation is believed to be one of the main causes for longevity, medical authorities stated.

The number of persons dying in California during the past year totaled 61,430.

ON THE TRAIL OF BIG LEAGUERS

EL PASO, Tex.—The Chicago Cubs were enroute to Beaumont, Tex., today after their sixth victory in seven starts against "Bucky" Harris' Tigers. The Cubs will play the Kansas City Blues there Saturday and Sunday and on Monday and Tuesday they will wind up with the Tigers. The Tigers leave tonight for Houston.

FORT MYERS, Fla. — Walter French, former outfielder of the Athletics, has been reinstated by Judge Landis, and will rejoin the club April 6.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The pitching of Grover Cleveland Alexander in an exhibition game against the New York Yankees has greatly heartened supporters of the St. Louis Cardinals, who look for "Old Pete" to have one of his best seasons.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The Cleveland Indians are rounding into shape so rapidly that Manager Roger Peckinpaugh is holding down on the club's efforts. Excessively hot weather has caused Peck to limit the team's workouts to an hour a day.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Herb Pennock, one time crack left hander of the New York Yankees, who suffered last season from a lame arm, will remain behind when the world's champions leave their training camp for Jacksonville, Fla., tomorrow night. He will attempt to get his wing back into shape for the opening of the season.

TRACK CHAMPS HERE TOMORROW

Nine Teams In Orange League Meet

MORE THAN 200 ATHLETES WILL VIE TOMORROW

The athletic cream of nine Orange league high schools congregate at Huntington Beach tomorrow afternoon to dispose of one of its most intriguing problems—the annual track and field championship.

Huntington Beach, the host school, is an almost unanimous favorite among the prognosticators with Anaheim favored to finish second and Orange third. Fullerton, champion in 1928, Tustin, Downey, Excelsior, Garden Grove and Brea-Olinda are picked to be teh also-rans.

Caliber of the some 200-odd competitors is generally supposed to be the best developed for many years in this strongly-knit league, the largest coalition in the state, and times and marks are likely to be dangerously near the record line in almost every event.

Koenig Best in Dashes

Huntington Beach is placing its major dependence for victory on a host of second, third and fourth place winners, although in Koenig, a sensational young sprinter, and Greenwald, a consistent quarter-miler, the Seasiders have at least two potential first place champions.

Koenig won the 100 and 220 at the Southern Counties Invitational meet in almost unbelievable time but showed a strange reversal of form the following Saturday at Chaffey where he went unplaced in considerably slower races. Illness was blamed for this inconsistency. The boy is said to be in shape again now, and is picked to win both sprints handily.

Greenwald is favored in the 440 with his strongest opponent looming in Schulz, of Anaheim.

Durbin Leading Half-Miler

Durbin, Orange, who has been running close to 2:05 all year should win the 880 and Lenz, of Anaheim, who is capable of 4:50, the mile. Darnley, Anaheim, appears a likely winner in both high and low hurdles with Sommers and Stricklin, of Huntington Beach, and Williams, of Fullerton, all factors to be considered.

With Koenig for an anchorman, Huntington Beach ought to be a comparatively easy winner in the half-mile relay.

McDonald, of Excelsior, will find little opposition in the shot put. He is good for 48 or 49 feet. McDonald also is a possible first place man in the discus but Hapes, of Garden Grove, will be dangerous. Both men have thrown the Greek platter 115 feet.

Holland, of Anaheim, has vaulted 11 feet, 6 inches and should win off this form. Miles, of Orange, has cleared 5 feet, 8 inches in the high jump and is figured to be first. The broad jump is a tossup with Hind, Tustin captain, appearing best with a mark of close to 21 feet.

Mrs. Drumm Pomona Golf Play Winner

Woman golfers of Santa Ana Country club were jubilant today over the victory scored yesterday by Mrs. Frank C. Drumm on the Mountain Meadows course at Pomona, where the annual open invitational was held, and where Mrs. Drumm won low net in Class B.

Country clubs from all sections of the Southland were represented, with 100 entries. Mrs. Drumm's trophy was a silver compote.

Fifteen woman players from the Santa Ana club attended the tournament, and were Mrs. Drumm, Mrs. R. W. Townsend, Mrs. E. K. Gerhardt, Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mrs. Edward B. Van Meter, Mrs. Charles Doty, Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Mrs. T. B. Waddell, Mrs. Osman Pixley, Mrs. E. T. Mateer, Mrs. W. N. Prince, Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs. C. C. Thrasher and Mrs. Charles Claytor.

'Y' CIRCUS TO BE STAGED TWO DAYS IN APRIL

Plans for the fifth annual Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium "circus" are being perfected for its presentation on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 11 and 12, in the "Y" gymnasium here.

This "circus" has become a fixed event of the local organization, being the one time in the year when the gymnasium classes of boys and girls, men and women, present for public enjoyment the results of the work of recreation and physical development carried on by the association.

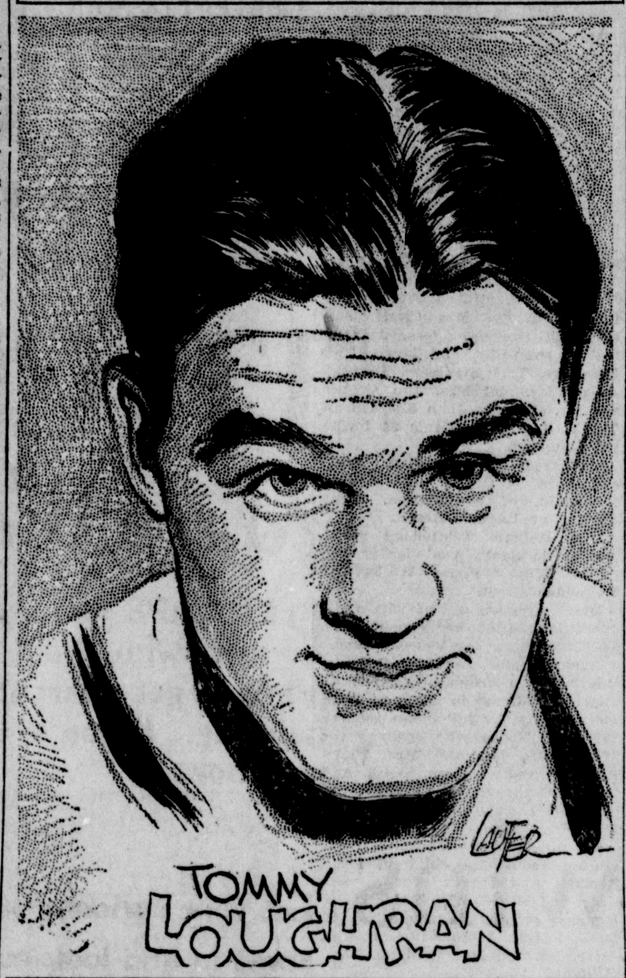

The program to be offered this year differs radically from those of the past. It will introduce the standard exhibition events, of drills and apparatus work, but in addition will give numerous original and pleasing arrangements of physical diversions and demonstrations, which, with the clever lighting scheme which is being worked out, will provide much more than the mere action.

Like all modern circuses, this one is to introduce a "pageant beautiful," which has been planned to indicate certain phases of the development of American citizenship. In this pageant will be introduced folk dances, drills, and characteristic acts in keeping with the theme of the pageant. Many of the girls from the Y. W. C. A. classes will participate in this portion of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Russick have charge of the program and the training of the performers, and they announce that they hope to give their friends in Santa Ana by far the best gymnasium performance that they have put on in the five years of such work.

RETAINS LIGHT HEAVY TITLE

Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, is still the light heavyweight boxing champion of the world. He beat Mickey Walker, the middleweight titleholder, in 10 rounds of mediocre fighting at Chicago last night. The referee favored Walker but the two judges cast their vote for Loughran. The critics said it was a poor contest.

LOUGHRAN TOO FAST, CLEVER FOR 'BULLDOG'

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, March 29.—Proving the theory that "a good big man can beat a good little man," Tommy Loughran still was light heavyweight boxing champion today. Loughran successfully defended his title here last night by outpointing "Bulldog" Mickey Walker, middleweight champion in 10 rounds.

Tommy was the heavier by approximately 10 pounds and he used the weight to advantage in pulling Walker into clinches when the latter rushed. Mickey, the slashing bulldog type of fighter was stopped completely by a great left jab which Loughran used continually.

Loughran won by using a fast stepping, jabbing style of boxing and clinching when he seemed in danger.

No Match For Champion

Walker clearly was no match for the light heavyweight champion. Try as he might, Mickey could not get inside with his slashing style.

On the few occasions when Walker did break through Loughran simply went into a clinch, cuffed the middleweight, with his right and left and danced away.

Loughran was in danger just once during the fight. That was in the fifth round when he apparently went out to slug with Walker. It took Mickey just one minute to prove how far Tommy could get with those tactics. Before the round was a minute old, Loughran's mouth and forehead were bleeding and the champion was content to clinch and rest a moment.

Tommy then backed away and boxed during the remainder of the fight.

By losing, Walker lost a chance to achieve an honor held only by Bob Fitzsimmons. Had he won he would have become a three-title man.

Fitzsimmons held the middleweight, lightweight and heavyweight championships, while Walker has been welterweight and middleweight champions.

Chicago's largest indoor crowd saw the fight. Approximately 20,000 persons crowded into Chicago's new stadium and Promoter Paddy Harmon said the gate receipts would exceed $225,000.

Loughran was guaranteed 55 per cent of the gross and he must pay Walker $50,000 out of that. In the semi-windup "Tuffy" Griffiths, Sioux City, Iowa, outpointed Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., in 10 rounds.

To win Griffiths slugged his way through Lomski's boxing defense. The victory allowed "Tuffy" to avenge the defeat which Lomski handed him in Detroit recently.

Old Timers Mobilize To Play Flyers

The Old Timers are getting older day by day—but they aren't through yet!

The veterans who mobilize along in the fall each year for a benefit game at the Orange County Fair grounds will assemble again a week from Sunday, April 7, at the Midway City airport baseball grounds and play Roy Head's Westminster Aviators.

George Lackaye is gathering the venerable group together and expects to have in his lineup such young fellows as Sam Dungan, Carl Stevens, Fred Mallett, Anson Mott, Roy ("Brownie") West, Bill Foote, Henry Hinrichs, "Rube" Hall, "Dutch" Hinrichs, Earl Ihrig and Clair and Roy Head.

CHAVEZ TO GET CALLAHAN BOUT AT HOLLYWOOD

If Zenaydo Chavez, 18-year-old Santa Ana welterweight, beats Jimmie Rivers here April 9 and wins from the veteran Johnny Adams at Wilmington April 17, he will be offered a main event at Hollywood with Mushy Callahan, world's junior welterweight champion, according to Earl Grigsby, Chavez's manager.

Tom Gallery, Hollywood matchmaker, has made the Santa Ana youth no definite offer and will not until Chavez has proved his fitness, but he has opened the way for negotiations.

Hollywood always has been inclined to give sensational youngsters a chance to break into the big time and will make Chavez a

SAINTS OUT TO STOP HILLTOPS IN DUAL MEET

Santa Ana high school will try to do tomorrow what no other track team in the Coast Preparatory league has been able—stop the rush of the crack, undefeated San Diego Hilltoppers to the dual meet championship of the Coast Preparatory league.

Pasadena and Long Beach already have taken handy trouncings from the gentlemen of the Gray Castle and there is not much hope that the Saints will be able to come any closer to victory than those two schools.

Coach Glenn Broderick's Southerners already have gained one decision over Santa Ana this year. In the Southern Counties Invitational at Huntington Beach, San Diego carried off high honors by scoring a fraction of a point more than the locals but the meet here will hardly be as close. The Saints are much stronger in big, open competition than they are in closed, dual ones as their points usually are gathered by a handfull of athletes whereas San Diego's points are just as secure as far as they go and they go further in dual meets where seconds and thirds count up surprisingly fast.

S. A. Conceded Four Firsts

Santa Ana is conceded first place in the high and low hurdles, broad jump and shot put. San Diego is conceded the 100, 200, 440, relay, pole vault, discus and high jump. The 880 and mile are considered absolutely open races, with odds favoring the Saints in the two-lap grind and the Hilltoppers in the longer chase.

The feature of the meet will be the appearance of Bill Miller, captain of the Hilltoppers and the world's champion interscholastic pole vaulter with a record of 13 feet, 3 inches. Miller is a

CALL MEETING OF NIGHT BALL PLAYERS, FANS

Plans and "specification" for Santa Ana's coming season of night baseball will be outlined fully at a public meeting next Tuesday night, April 2, in the council chambers of the city hall. The assembly will be called to order at 7:30 o'clock.

In calling the meeting, Elwayne ("Eeny") Wilcox, president of the Commission of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association, urged all players and persons interested in the sport to attend.

"We want to discuss our problems freely and openly so there will be no misunderstanding," Wilcox said. "Anybody who has anything to 'get off his chest' will be welcome. This is to be an open gathering and all players and fans should attend."

After obtaining the reaction of the public, the commission will proceed to shape its plans for the season and to set definite noon meeting dates at which all problems will be threshed out in regular session.

The Bowl at Sixth and Olive streets has been leased by the city to the night baseball association which has under consideration elaborate plans for improvement of the grounds.

MILTON FISH TO HEAD SOUTHLAND GROUP

A. Milton Fish, of Long Beach, was elected president of the Southern California Night Baseball association, with which Santa Ana is affiliated, at a meeting of team representatives at Anaheim last night. Otto Jacobs, Santa Ana attorney, is vice-president of the body.

The secretary's report disclosed that $569, received from championship playoff tussles last summer, is in the treasury. No action will be taken on the drafting of schedules for the 1929 season until May 2.

SAINTS SPANK ALL-STAR NINE BY 10-5 SCORE

Two large and luscious innings gave Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school baseball team a 10 to 5 victory over a club of all-stars, composed largely of alumni, at Poly field yesterday.

Although such well known pastimers as Ed and Levitt Daley, Orville Schuchardt, Oscar Spencer, Randolph Bell, Arold Norton and Coach Foote himself were in the Stars' layout, they found the delivery of young Johnny Willcutt something of a puzzle and had to be satisfied with four hits, of which two were gathered by L. Daley.

Bill Foote

The high school made six of their runs in the fourth off of two hits and four errors and the rest, four, in the sixth on two hits and several more fielding miscues.

Captain Curt Youel pitched the last two stanzas for the Saints and the Stars scored three on him in the sixth without a hit, the southpaw passing three.

LEGION BASEBALL BOYS TO PRACTICE

Fred Faber, director of baseball for Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, urges all members and candidates for the team that will represent this city in the national American Legion boys' tournament this summer to report for practice at Julia Lathrop field tomorrow at 2:15 p. m.

Announcement that county and district winners would receive prizes this season and that state champions would receive a trip to Hawaii, with all expenses paid, has increased interest among eligibles. Santa Ana went clear to the state semi-finals before suffering elimination last year.

THREE MARKS FALL AS STANFORD WINS

SEATTLE, March 29. — Three world records were broken in the Washington-Stanford track meet which was won by Coach "Dick" Templeton's Stanford champions last night, 73 to 58.

Steve Anderson, Washington, was thought to have set a new world record when he won the 80-yard high hurdle event, in 9.8 seconds.

Harlow Rothert, Stanford, established a new shotput record of 50 feet and five-eighths of an inch. The former record was 49 feet, 6 7-8 inches.

Eric Krenz, Stanford, set a new record in the discus of 153 feet, 11 3-4 inches.

Stanford captured eight first places and eight second places.

DONS DEFEATED BY LONG BEACH, 7 TO 1

Santa Ana junior college lost a non-conference baseball game to the Long Beach Vikings, 7 to 1, at Long Beach yesterday. The Dons were limited to four hits and held scoreless after the first round by Nakamaru, Long Beach Japanese flinger.

Nickey's Stars Win From Olive

Frank Nickey's Santa Ana All-Stars, girding for the impending season of night baseball, defeated Olive, 8 to 4, at Olive last night. Nickey is arranging for a return game with the Anaheim Missions, which beat his club, 2 to 1, in 12 innings last week.

"Red" Thiery pitched for the Santa Anans and "Eeny" Wilcox caught. Wilbur Fipps was at first, Ed Thiery second, Scott third, Christofferson short, Remus Fipps in left field, Nickey in center and Lindsey in right.

CUE CHAMP DEFEATED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 29.—Charles Jordan, Los Angeles, and Max Shimon, Milwaukee, were leaders in the national amateur three cushion billiard tournament as the fifth round of play began today. J. N. Bozeman, Vallejo, Calif., defending champion, seemed nearly out of the race. The young champion lost his second game of the tournament yesterday to Louis Volger of Indianapolis, 50 to 46. It was Volger's first victory.

southpaw, one of the few left-handers ever to become a high class bamboo artist. He may be in the mood for some more record-breaking tomorrow.

Willson and Ortiz, of San Diego, are picked to finish one-two in the 100 and Willson is favored in the 220 with Paul, of the Saints, second. Warburton and Staker look ready for an easy eight points in the 440, Santa Ana being none too well fortified in this race.

Captain Tommy Cone of Santa Ana will have to run his fastest 880 of the season to defeat Bown, who chased to the tape in 2:05 last Friday. Cone's best time is 2:03.

On past performances Dowers, San Diego, and Donahue, Santa Ana, should battle on even terms in the mile but Dowers seems to be improving while Donahue has been slipping and the odds will be on the Hilltopper to win.

San Diego has no hurdler to compare with Reboin, the great Saint star, although Ortiz has shown signs of developing in the low barriers. At the same time the Saints have no relay team to cope with the visitors who should win pulled up.

There will be no argument about the pole vault, of course, although Reboin and Stiles, two Saints, may be two-three. Neither school is overly strong in the high jump and almost anything may happen but on form Santa Ana will be lucky to place.

Norman Paul is doped to win the shot put and the broad jump for Santa Ana. He is good for 46 feet in the weight event and better than 22 feet in the jump, marks which San Diego athletes have yet to equal. The rapidly improving "Red" Cooke may slide into a second place in the shot if he comes up to his 44-foot shove at Chaffey and either Jim Daneri or Doyle Gilbert may possibly leap into second money in the broad jump. They are approaching 21 feet which, however, Dobbins, the best Hilltopper entry, has been beating regularly.

The Saints look out of luck in the discus in which San Diego expects to take all three places.

No Bouts Here Tonight; Start Tuesday

For the first time in many Fridays, the Orange County Athletic club will be "dark" tonight.

There will be no bouts at the southside arena because President H. T. Foust has decided to change the nights of his fistic offerings from Fridays to Tuesdays and the policy goes into effect this week.

The club will reopen next Tuesday, April 2, with an all star card in which Zenaydo Chavez meets Johnny Nandez, Jimmie Rivers faces Billy Clark and Wally Frazier goes against "Bud" Baker.

Four Teams Left In Girls' Tourney

WICHITA, Kans., March 29.—Four teams were prepared today to start play in the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. girl's basketball tournament tonight.

Included among the four are the Schepp's Aces, of Dallas, present holders of the national title, who defeated the East Central State Teachers' college of Ada, Okla., 29 to 20 last night. The other teams are the Dallas Cyclones, Wallenstein Raffman of Wichita, and the Sparklers of Sparkman, Ark.

YANKS EVEN MONEY FAVORITES ON MART

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—The New York Yankees rule even money to take first place in the American league pennant race, and the Chicago Cubs are 3-2 favorites to win the National league race, according to figures compiled by Tom Kearney, St. Louis betting commissioner. The Phillie Nationals are a 100-1 shot.

Odds on the teams given by Kearney are:

American: — New York, 1-1; Philadelphia, 3-2; St. Louis, 8-1; Detroit, 12-1; Washington, 15-1; Chicago, 30-1; Cleveland, 40-1; Boston, 40-1.

Nationals:—Chicago, 3-2; Pittsburgh, 2-1; New York, 2-1; St. Louis, 3-1; Cincinnati, 10-1; Boston, 40-1; Brooklyn, 40-1; Philadelphia, 100-1.

Bear Track Squad Leaves For South

lucrative proposition if he gets over his next two humps.

Callahan, chowing some of his old time form, knocked out Jackie Carr in the fourth round of Hollywood's main event last night.

Chavez is training hard for his six-round windup at the Orange County Athletic club Tuesday with Johnny Nandez.

Bruins Hold Edge In Hockey Series

NEW YORK, March 29.—The Boston Bruins and the New York Rangers arrived in town today to renew their series for the Stanley cub, emblematic of the world's hockey championship, with the Hub sextet enjoying a profound advantage as a result of last night's 2 to 0 victory.

CALLAHAN, FRAZIER WIN AT HOLLYWOOD

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—Mush Callahan, junior welterweight champion, evened up the score here last night for a beating he took several months ago, by knocking out Jackie Carr in the fourth of their scheduled 10-round bout.

Callahan, who lost by a decision and a couple of knockdowns in his last encounter with Carr, began bombarding his opponent from the opening gong last night, and with Carr retaliating the bout became a free-for-all.

After weakening Carr with a terrific body attack Callahan slipped one to the chine in the fourth and the affair was all over.

Charles Kaiser defeated Clayton Gouydo and Wallie Frazier took a decision over Art Pertille.

Old Gold wins at Princeton

in a test of the 4 leading cigarettes

THE DAILY PRINCETONIAN

"The Daily Princetonian" was asked by the P. Lorillard Company, makers of OLD GOLD cigarettes, to conduct a test at Princeton to determine which of the four widest-selling cigarettes had the greatest taste appeal.

For the purposes of the test the four leading cigarettes were "masked" to conceal the brand names. Undergraduates were asked to smoke the four brands without knowing their identity. The cigarettes were numbered, and the men merely chose, by number, the one that appealed to them most.

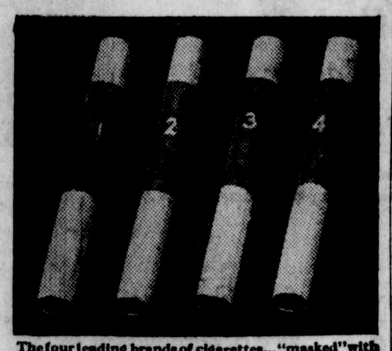

The test was made at eleven Princeton upper-class clubs and at the Freshman Commons on January 11th to 16th. In all, 303 students smoked and compared the four cigarettes. The test was conducted in a perfectly fair and impartial manner.

The results show that "Cigarette W" won 75 first choices; "Cigarette X" won 74; "Cigarette Y" won 36; and "Cigarette Z" (which was OLD GOLD) won 118. The preference for OLD GOLD was 57% greater than that for the next highest brand.

"NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD"

TRACTOR SHIP IMPROVEMENT IS EXPLAINED

Here is the sixth of the Register and 20-30 club articles on building scientific airplane models—it tells how to construct the built-up motor stick for the Championship Tractor described last week. If you have questions on it, send them, with a two-cent stamp for answer, to Mr. Hamburg, A. M. L. A., American Boy Building, Second and Lafayette Boulevards, Detroit, Michigan. He'll answer them!

(Copyright, 1929, by The American Boy Magazine, Detroit.)

By MERRILL HAMBURG
Secretary, Airplane Model League of America

Last week the Register and 20-30 club, sponsors of the Airplane Model League of America here, promised an improvement on the Championship Tractor with its cambered wings—an improvement that makes it perform even better than it did for Ernest McCoy, its designer. The improvement is a built-up motor stick—a hollow stick with internal supports that is both stiffer and lighter than the solid stick.

And the boy who first used it effectively made himself world's champion!

He is Aram Abgarian, 15-year-old Detroiter, who used the cambered wing and tail you learned about last week, plus his hollow motor stick—and flew his model to a new world's record of 353.6 seconds at the First National A. M. L. A. Contests, held by The American Boy Magazine at Detroit in 1928. Here are the plans for his motor stick. You can incorporate them in your Champ Tractor.

And you can get the materials you'll need—1-32 inch flat balsa 15 1-4 inches long, a balsa strip 1-16x3-16x6 inches and ambroid—in the same kit you bought last week for the McCoy ship. It includes all of them. If you haven't yet obtained the kit, you can get it for 85 cents at Henry's Cycle shop, 427 West Fourth street. It will give you all your materials for the complete ship, with either type of motor stick; an A. M. L. A. Manual is included as well.

Read All Directions

With the materials in hand, you're ready to start. First, read all through these directions and study the diagram thoroughly, so you'll know exactly the steps to follow. Then get to work.

The outside dimensions of the motor stick are 1-8x1-4x15 inches. For its four walls you need four strips of balsa, 1-32x15 inches. Two are cut 1-4 inch wide, and the other two 1-16. Before they are cut they should be marked for plugs and bulkheads—the little inside reinforcements set at one-inch intervals.

First, sand carefully a strip of 1-32 inch flat balsa, cutting it to the exact 15 inch length. Draw light pencil lines across the strip 3-8 inch from each end, 1 1-2 inch from each end and at one-inch intervals between these last two marks. Now you have located the thirteen bulkheads and the two end-plugs.

Next, split the strip lengthwise—with a very sharp knife and a straight edge—into the four side walls of the fuselage. The Manual tells you how. Take one of the 1/16-inch strips and paint the two edges with ambroid, taking extra care not to get it on either face. Lay it flat on the table, and stand the two ¼-inch side walls up against it to form a square-cornered U. If you have laid the strips properly, the pencil lines will correspond exactly; if they don't one or more of the strips must be reversed, end for end.

Must Fit Exactly

Now, the end-plugs and bulkheads. Cut off two pieces ¾-inch long from the balsa strip 1/16x3/16 x6 inches—the pieces you want, if your U is properly made, will be exactly 1/16x3/16. Make sure that they fit exactly—they must not bulge the ends—and then ambroid them and set them in place. For the bulkheads, cut a strip 1/16-inch wide from the 1/32 flat balsa, then cut off pieces 3/16-inch long—13 of them. Every piece must be precise—it must fit neither too tightly nor too loosely. When they are finished and you have found them to fit exactly by setting them into place without glue, take them out one at a time, paint lightly with ambroid and reset them.

There must be room left on top of them, of course, so that the fourth side of the fuselage will fit in. Ambroid this in place, then sand the whole stick lightly to finish it.

And you have the Abgarian fuselage—one less subject to twist by a tightly-wound motor than the solid stick, yet lighter by about the weight of the propeller. You save that much weight, and weight counts in an endurance model.

Now paint the stick with ambroid at each end, for added strength, and set the metal parts as shown in the drawing. If you made the solid stick ship last week, take the metal pieces from the old fuselage.

You can use your old tail group, or build a new set, just as you choose. Careful cutting with your knife will remove the old group from the McCoy model. Set it into the rear end of the motor stick, cutting grooves for the spars as shown at the left of the diagram.

Clip on Wing

Now clip on your wing, hook up the motor and propeller and let 'er sail! You'll find, if everything is done just right, that you've built your finest indoor model. It will be the lightest for its size, the strongest and the most enduring flier.

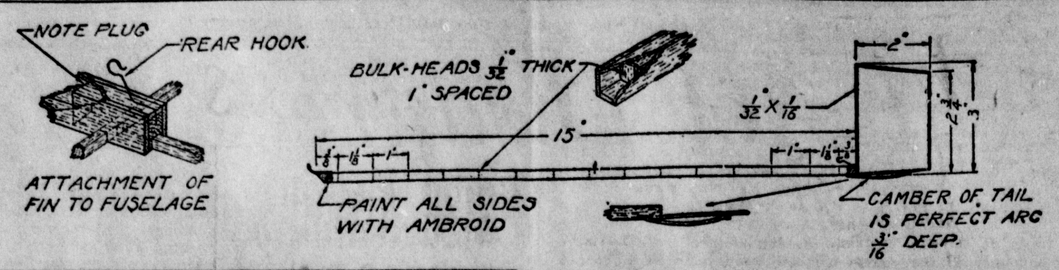

And perhaps it will win for you a trip to Europe! For, after the Register and 20-30 club hold local contests to select champions of Santa Ana, these champions will be sent to Detroit as the guests of this newspaper and the 20-30 club. And there will compete with other city champions for cash prizes, cups, medals, other awards and—best of all—free trips to Europe, offered by The American Boy Magazine.

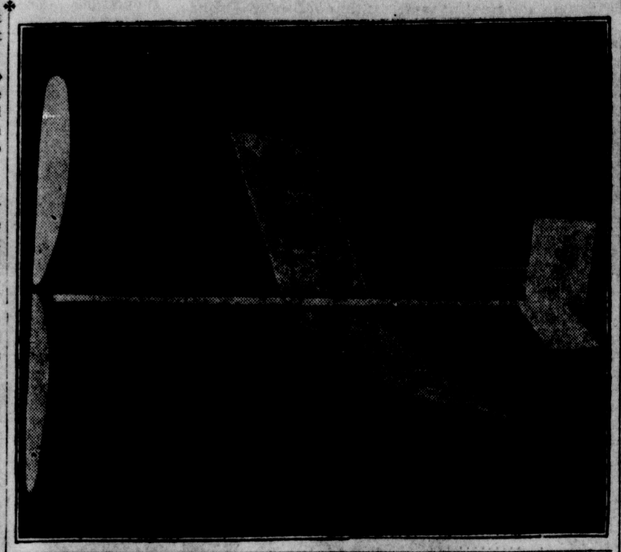

Watch this paper for forthcoming airplane model articles. They will tell you how to build other record-smashing models—how to compete for other trips to Europe.

Author Of Wright Act Disagrees With Judge Allen

NO CONFLICT IN STATE, JONES LAWS, HE SAYS

Taking a position opposite to that announced here by Superior Judge James L. Allen, Assemblyman T. M. Wright, San Jose, author of the Wright act, California's "Little Volstead Law," announced today that no attempt will be made by dry leaders in the legislature to amend the California statute to conform to the provisions of the Jones law.

While Judge Allen holds that a portion of the Wright act is unconstitutional in accepting future amendments to the Volstead act, Assemblyman Wright stated that he believes all amendments to the federal law automatically become part of the California statute.

Yesterday it was learned that the effectiveness of the Jones law is to be questioned in Pennsylvania in court argument on April 8 and that a copy of Judge Allen's decision has been requested there. Judge Allen's decision has gained nation-wide attention. It is believed, however, that the effectiveness of the Jones law can be questioned only in states such as Pennsylvania, which may have laws similar to the Wright act in accepting future amendments to the Volstead law.

With convictions under the new federal law being reported in other sections of California, it appeared today that this county may be the only one in the state in which the famous "five and ten" law will not operate. The Jones law prescribed penalties of five years in the penitentiary or a $10,000 fine, or both, for illegal manufacture, sale, transportation or importation of intoxicating liquor.

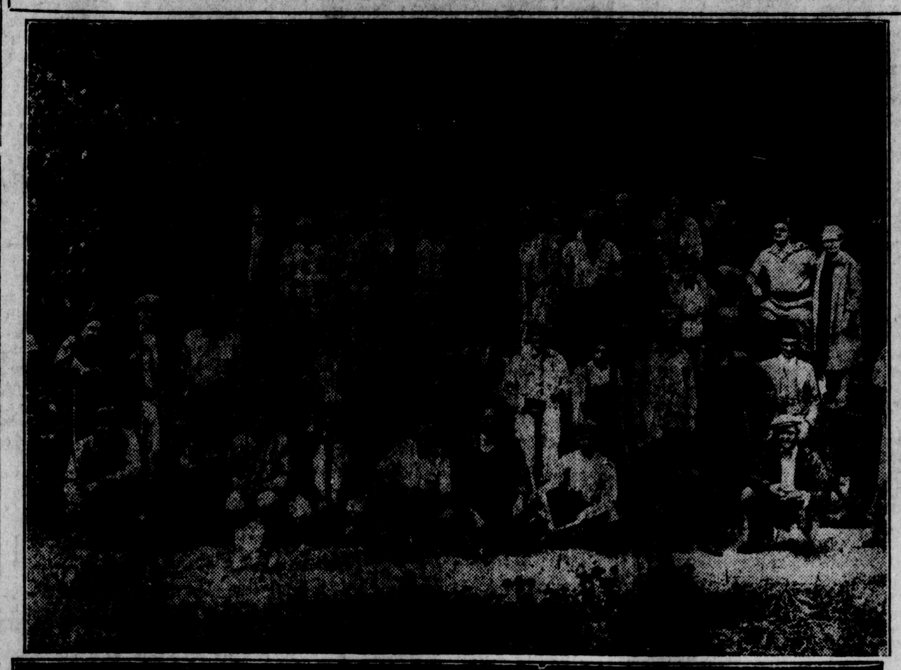

Assemblyman Wright, who is supported in his position by Dr. Arthur Briggs, of the Anti-Saloon league, declared that "we shall await a supreme court decision declaring the Wright act unconstitutional. Until that time we shall proceed on the theory that it is not in conflict with the state or federal constitutions."

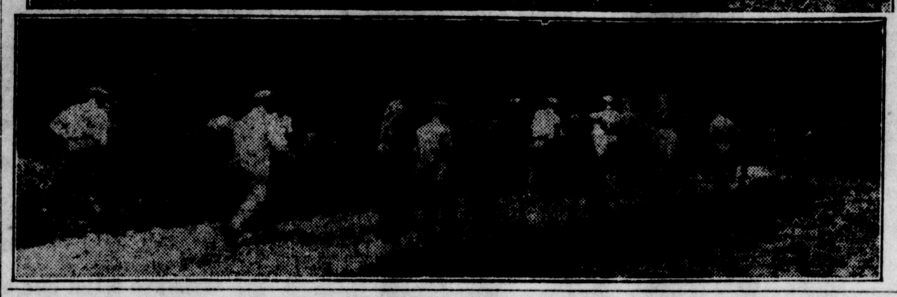

Assemblyman William Hornblower, wet leader of the legislature, agrees with Judge Allen and declares the judge's decision will be upheld by the supreme court. However, Hornblower hoped that the dry leaders in the legislature would move to add the Jones amendment to the state Wright act.

"If they do, we'll put the whole thing to referendum and kill it at one blow," Hornblower said. "Mr. Wright and Mr. Briggs well know that the people would repeal the state law if these harsh and drastic penalties were added. It must not be forgotten that the Wright act repeal initiated in 1926 lost by a scant 60,000 votes. The drys are out on a limb and they know it."

LEGIONNAIRES 'DO THEIR BIT' AGAIN

AVIATION CLUB TO HEAR WAR FLYER

H. O. Russell, junior college instructor and captain in the U. S. air forces in France during the World war, will talk on aviation and his experiences as a flyer to members of the Santa Ana Junior Aviation club tomorrow. The club will meet at 10 a. m., in the Walker theater.

Russell, who is known as an excellent speaker, was invited to address the gathering by Vic Walker, of the 20-30 club, which is co-operating with The Register in sponsoring the aviation club here.

Walker announced that membership cards and buttons would be given out tomorrow.

BALKY AUTO KEPT HIM FROM COURT

Because Alva C. Barker, Santa Ana, was stalled with a temperamental automobile when he was scheduled to appear recently in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court, he was unable to arrive on time and today, because attorneys on the other side of the case demanded it, a bench warrant was issued, ordering Barker to appear tomorrow.

Barker arrived in court on the day in question after the case had been called and the attorneys had vanished. He waited patiently, but they did not reappear. A judgment of $339.15 had been entered against him, Edward H. Lamme and Silas O. Wheeler, of the Coffee Blenders shoppe, by default, and an order for appearance of the judgment debtors had been issued.

Barker tried to be there but he just couldn't make it.

Police News

Overtime parkers who paid fines in Judge J. F. Talbott's court yesterday were L. L. Berry, George Ash and W. L. Hall. Each was fined $2.

An automobile owned by Willard Brady, of 333 Halesworth avenue, reported stolen last night from near his home, was recovered by officers this morning.

A battery from a Ford car was stolen last night from the garage of Mrs. J. H. Smith, 215 1-2 South Main street, according to a report made to Santa Ana police.

PRIZE AWARDS FEATURE POLY HIGH RUBE DAY

The echoes and memories of Rube day still lingered in the minds of students in the Santa Ana high school today after the day of merriment and fantastic costumes enjoyed yesterday.

Only a few of the students did not "dress up" and the day was a complete success. A student body dance was held at noon in the gymnasium and a rube assembly was held at 2:30. The noon period was lengthened to one hour and the afternoon periods were shortened.

During assembly, the best boy and girl rube were selected by popular applause. Guy Harvey was the boy winner, with an original costume which consisted merely of a barrel, hung from straps over the shoulder. Jerry Tannenbaum, senior class president, and Bill Wallingford ran Harvey a close race. The girl winner was Miss Julia Thorndike, dressed as a vamp, with red skirts, white curls and a flowered hat.

Prizes for the winners were a bun and wiener for the boy and a bouquet of wilkweed, wild oats and carrot tops for the girl. John Keeler, student body president, and Thomas Cone, commissioner of athletics, had charge of the program and conducted the judging.

Other events on the assembly were banjo solos by Harper Goff, vocal duets by Goff and Garth Benjamin, a one-act play by Newell Vandermast, the old man; Marian Parsons, the old woman, and David Hill, the lion, and a picture trailer advertising the coming Movie club picture, "College Daze."

Creating a sensation on the campus at noon, the annual "Degenerator" comic edition of the Generator was distributed. It was printed on yellow paper, with purple and green ink used. Pictures of the faculty, scandal stories and jokes were displayed throughout the paper. The front page was turned sideways and was 10 columns wide. The paper was dedicated to Thomas E. Williams, printing instructor.

PASSION WEEK PASTOR'S TOPIC IN LIONS TALK

Pointing out that Passion week starts on Palm Sunday, the Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, in an address at the meeting of the Lions club, yesterday, stressed the point that the week is one in which the Christians of the world review the incidents in the life of Jesus Christ.

The minister commented on the many possible interpretations of the word passion, from its baser to its higher meaning, and gave emphasis to a statement that passion, in its best form, is what has led many persons to their individual successes.

"Passion holds one as manacles of a slave," the Rev. Mr. McPeak said, in stating that some persons have a passion for money, some for pleasure, some for honor.

He declared that he could conceive of no greater passion than that of love for Jesus Christ.

John A. Henderson was program chairman and Sally Scales, vocal soloist in the United Presbyterian church, sang a sacred number.

The club accepted an invitation from Ketner's cafe to hold its meeting next week in the new banquet room of the cafe.

BASEMENTS FOR PLAY

Since the invention and general use of oil burners in modern homes, parts of many basements have been devoted to recreational facilities for the family. The burners do not take up as much room as other forms of heating apparatus and do away with dust, dirt and other disagreeable elements. As a result, basement are being adapted for gymnasiums, playrooms, music and card rooms and other recreational uses to suit the homeowner's taste.

A. B. Berry, for the last five years member of The Register editorial staff, today severed his newspaper connection to become identified with the William LeVecke company, Orange county distributor of General Electric refrigerators.

W. H. ZIMMERMAN, 92, TAKES TO AIR

William H. Zimmerman, 92, who in th e"old days" drove herds of cattle from downstate in Illinois to the Chicago markets, has taken to the air.

He took his first airplane ride yesterday at the Eddie Martin airport and was so thrilledover it that he promised Martin he would be back again, not once but often.

Zimmerman has made numerous trips alone to the east in the last several years. All have been on trains, however. Now he wants to go by airplane. He lives at 210 West First street.

FOURTH ESTATE BIDS FAREWELL TO A. B. BERRY

Santa Ana's fourth estate today bade farewell to A. B. ("Colonel") Berry, for the last five years police reporter on The Register.

Berry, formerly author of a popular column called "Kernels by The Colonel," announced that on April 1 he will assume a position as salesman for the Santa Ana office of General Electric refrigerators, with headquarters at 420 North Broadway. He resides at 413 Roe drive.

Although loath to leave a profession with which he has been identified almost continuously since his discharge from the army after the World war, Berry said that he was looking forward to his new work eagerly. Like many others, the newspaperman believes there still are golden opportunities in the world of business.

Berry is a member of Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, and numerous other patriotic and fraternal organizations.

It was five years ago next month that Berry became a reporter on The Register. He'd had five years' previous experience in the newspaper game.

During his five years on The Register, Berry has made a host of friends. Like all newspaper reporters he numbers among his friends men and women from all walks of life. He hob-nobbed with bankers, boot-blacks, merchants, barbers, farmers and office workers. He leaves the employ of The Register with the good wishes of his fellow workers—a slap on the back and the same old bromide that goes with every reporter when he quits the never ending quest for news — "lucky dog."

Spring Comes With Your Easter Suit!

We'll Help You Get Ready Tomorrow, Starting With Your New Suit

Some of these new suits are quite youthful in appearance, and some impart a youthful air to middle ages—particularly that style with rope shoulders in modified form, peak lapels, plaited vests and trousers.

All of the good colors among them—the new Blue-Grays, the Dark Blues, Oxford Grays in fancy shadow stripes, variations of Tans and Grays.

The best choice at $35 to $45.

Suits for 13 to 17ers

The same identical model that older men will buy for Easter. Rope shoulders, peak lapels, plaited vests and trousers—maybe a little closer fitting at the waist. TWO PANTS—$10 to $22.50. Real new style for youths.

The Hat Is a Real Joy

First, because we have such a large selection, especially at $5.00, and our new Stetsons at $8.50—second because they look so dog-goned good this spring when they're fitted right. You'll enjoy getting a new hat.

New Eagle Easter Shirt

The smartest shirt we've laid an eye upon—a new Eagle model with laundered collar attached, the collar is stiff-laundered on the outside and has a SOFT inner band. NEW, and new fabrics—at $2.50 and $3.00.

And How About the Boy?

It would be a tragedy to leave him out of the Easter picture when we have gone to so much trouble to have new clothes here in time—new suit styles, new Kaynee wash suits, new shirts, new everything! Bring him in.

California's History Theme of Talk By Pasadenan

Mrs. Virginia Bartlett, of Pasadena, was the speaker at the latest meeting of the Orange County Library club held at the El Torre hotel in Anaheim last night. Mrs. Bartlett whose book, "Adois," is soon to be published, told of early California history in different parts of the state and related many interesting incidents of early happenings in Anaheim.

Following Mrs. Bartlett's talk, Mrs. Emma Grimsahw, who has resided in Anaheim since its early days, gave a short talk in which she told of events that had taken place in the early days of the city.

Election was held during a brief business session when the following officers were named: President, Miss Mary Campbell, of the children's library of Fullerton; vice president, Miss M. Greenway, of Yorba Linda; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary Potter, of the Anaheim high school library.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner preceded the meeting. Tables were very lovely with baskets filled with Easter eggs in brilliant hues. Thirty-five members of the club were present.

Easter Egg Hunt Is Pleasant Feature Of Party

A joyous afternoon was spent in hunting Easter eggs hidden about the home of Mrs. H. V. Bowers of 2025 North Main street yesterday afternoon when she entertained friends of her young daughter, Miss Blanche Hartzell, on the occasion of her ninth birthday anniversary.

Following the egg hunt, Miss Blanche and her guests enjoyed a pretty supper at the Rose Arbor Inn. The long table arranged for the affair bore many evidences of the approach of Easter in the tall tapers, lovely flowers, and clever little place cards and nut baskets.

League of Women Voters Is Organized at Luncheon

Organization of a League of Women Voters was effected in Santa Ana yesterday by a group of enthusiastic women who met for luncheon at the Rose Arbor Inn. An interesting address by Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the New York league, who has played a prominent part in the growth of the league throughout the United States, was a feature of the meeting.

Mrs. George B. Mangold, past president of the St. Louis, Mo., league, was elected president of the new league and her vice-presidents included Mrs. E. M. Blake, Mrs. Anita Alexander, Miss Octavia Goldsworthy, Mrs. Alice Plumber, Mrs. F. P. Preble, and Miss Dorothy Cartwright. Other officers elected were Mrs. John Campbell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl Mock, recording secretary; and Mrs. H. A. Knight, treasurer.

The league will meet on the third Thursday of each month and a board meeting at the Y. M. C. A. will be held next Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Vanderlip's talk dealt with the purpose of the league which is to study citizenship by group systems, which is considered as preferable to individual study. She also pointed out that a group view of an important question often modifies the view of an individual, thus doing away with a great amount of prejudice.

The theory that woman's place is in the home has been a popular one for many years, the speaker declared, but nowadays when the interests of young people take them so far from the home, women have found that they too must leave the home in order to understand the activities of their children. The League of Women Voters, according to Mrs. Vanderlip, plays an important part in keeping women in touch with movements throughout the land.

Mrs. Vanderlip stated that important measures now being backed by the national league include the Newton bill, the Lame Duck bill, and the Muscle Shoals bill.

She warned her listeners against indifference to and ignorance of civic problems, and told how knowledge on such subjects was imparted to women through the league.

Mrs. Vanderlip was introduced by Mrs. John Clarkson, parliamentarian of Santa Ana Ebell society, following a brief talk by Mrs. E. M. Blake who acted as chairman at the luncheon.

Mrs. Mangold, who was later elected president of the league, gave a brief talk describing the purpose of the organization and Mrs. Nelly Hall Root of Long Beach, state chairman of organization, told of the program of the California league.

Current Events Club Holds Easter Meeting

The Easter meeting of the Current Events club was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wylie, 2526 Santiago avenue. Husbands of the members were guests at the affair.

Mrs. Legacy presided in her usual gracious manner. Mrs. Roy Wilson gave two vocal selections, Miss Florence McCartney presented piano solos and L. A. Galloway sang two selections.

A delicious supper was served.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Judge Thomas Class

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westover, of 1527 E. Fourth street, entertained the Judge Thomas class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, Tuesday evening

The home was made joyful by huge bowls of sweet peas and carnations, and a cheery wood fire in the grate.

The guests were entertained most delightfully by the small daughter of the home, Miss Dorothy, who sang several numbers. Mrs. Westover, with the assistance of Mrs. John Sauers, Mrs. A. E. Fox, Mrs. Guy Christian, Mrs. E. M. Fuller, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Hafer presented a charming little play entitled "The Flapper of Today."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present included Messers and Madams George Reed, R. M. Foster, J. J. Hershiser, E. F. Miller, Bert Crozier, Belding, E. C. McKinstry, and Madams R. Grimes, W. H. Thomas, Thos. Mann, M. A. Nunn, McNeil, Judd, Townsend and Osborne; Miss Van Hise, W. C. Townsend, Joe Chicole and Mr. Martin.

ELEGANCE PERVADES MODE

A new elegance pervades the mode for this year's Easter costumes. Below are two attractive models. The fawn colored coat has a fitted silhouette, new sleeves, and trims itself with black velvet. The purse is self material and hat and gloves match. French-like in its chic is the black suit with ermine facings and a jabot blouse. The black-white chapeau has a coral feather in it.

Mrs. W. H. McPeak Is New President of Presbyterial

At the spring meeting of the Women's Presbyterial of the United Presbyterian church, held at the First United Presbyterian church in Los Angeles, this week, Mrs. W. H. McPeak was chosen president for the ensuing year and Mrs. O. S. Johnston was elected a member of the board of directors for the Association of the West.

This meeting was largely attended by United Presbyterian women of Southern California and was an interesting and inspiring gathering.

The banquet on Tuesday evening was followed by a unique "broadcasting" program. In the evening a memorial was held for the late Mrs. H. C. Dean, who had been very active in the organization.

A beautiful candle lighting service was held when all having missionary relatives or friends were privileged to light a candle in their honor.

Wednesday afternoon an address was given by Dr. Francis H. Ball of Long Beach who was born in Basatu-land, Africa, of missionary parents.

Several pageants were given emphasizing different phases of the United Presbyterian church. Mrs. W. J. Lindsay and Mrs. W. H. Herring were re-elected to the secretarial positions they have held for two years. Others attending from the local organization were Mesdames Anna Scott, E. C. Noble, Bruce Gibson, T. L. Warren, W. M. Breckenridge, C. E. Hague, H. W. Walker, Stewart Kennedy, A. J. McFadden, W. M. Smart, John McFadden, and the Misses Ada Cowan and Martha Smith.

OAKS WIN IN HOCKEY

Amistad Club Members Are Guests at Luncheon

Members of the Amistad club were entertained in friendly fashion yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. F. Cribaro of 439 South Sycamore street who had planned an attractive Easter luncheon for the occasion.

Sweet peas in pastel tints filled the crystal bowl that centered the table and Easter eggs in brilliant hues marked each place.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mrs. Marshall Harnois, who is in charge of decorating the Church of the Messiah for the Easter services, has asked that members planning to donate lilies or potted plants for the occasion, bring them to the church early Saturday. Following the services, the flowers are to be taken to institutions of mercy and charity.

Ebell's poetry section will meet Tuesday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at the home of Miss Lucy Agar, 323 South Garnsey street. Mrs. C. F. Jackson will talk on Margaret Widdemar's poetry and Miss Luvicy Carter will review Thomas Hardy's latest book of poems.

Gardner-West Nuptials At Orange Woman's Club Impressive

One of Santa Ana's loveliest young women, Miss Madelyn Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gardner of 324 East Twentieth street, became the bride of Walter Leo West, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. West of Prospect avenue at a pretty ceremony that took place last night at the Orange Woman's club.

The many spring flowers that are in bloom now were used effectively in decorating the clubhouse for the wedding and particularly beautiful was the arch of flowers arranged in front of the fireplace where the service was read by the Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Orange.

Miss Gardner's charm was enhanced by the bouffant gown of white crepe satin and the misty veil that fell from a coronet of orange blossoms to the floor. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and lillies of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Gardner, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a becoming frock of pink georgette with a French bouquet in harmonizing colors. Thomas Bird of Laguna Beach, a fraternity brother of Mr. West, served as best man.

Preceding the wedding, Lean Gardner, the bride's brother, sang "O Promise Me" with Miss Dorothy Cocks of Long Beach accompanying at the piano. Miss Cocks also played the Lohengrin wedding march as the pretty bride entered the room upon the arm of her father who later gave her in marriage.

A reception followed when dainty wedding ices and cake were served by Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. West, Miss Dorothy Gardner, and Miss Arletta West.

Taoism Is Contrasted With Confucianism By E. M. Nealley

At yesterday's meeting of the University Study section of Ebell, E. M. Nealley, of the Santa Ana junior college, continued his lectures on the three great religions of China.

Mr. Nealley's talk yesterday dealt particularly with Taoism, founded by Laotze about 500 B. C., which is a philosophy of inactivity. Laotze taught that man should be like water which is soft, pliable, and still but eventually wears away the hardest stone. Mr. Nealley pointed out that the ancient philosopher knew nothing of the chemical action of water.

Today Taoism has degenerated from a philocophy and religion into a low form of superstition that is followed by none but the unintelligent classes.

In contrasting Taoism with China's other great religions, Buddhism and Confucianism, Mr. Nealley stated that the first is in direct opposition to the philosophy taught by Confucius who believed that man should constantly strive to better his place in this world.

Mr. Nealley will give two more lectures on Chinese religions and philosophies in which he will tell of the development of religion in that country today as contrasted to that of former years.

Board of Directors Of Lowell P.-T. A. Plan Party

The board of directors of the Lowell P.-T. A. headed by the president, Mrs. Roy Gowdy, planned a delightful bridge party for the teachers of the school that was held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. R. L. Dixon of 802 South Parton street.

The Easter motif was carried out in the decorations and in the pretty tallies and table appointments. Mrs. Freda McFadden who was high at bridge and Mrs. Katherine Duke who was low, were presented with appropriate gifts.

Those present for the affair included Miss Mildred Mead, Miss Linda Mueler, Mrs. Juanita Fletcher, Mrs. Freda McFadden, Mrs. Marjorie Dudley, Mrs. Katherine Duke, Miss Helen Menges, Miss Hazel Lazar, Miss Marian Stull, Miss Grace Bell, Mrs. R. The series of health talks is sponsored by the Orange County Tuberculosis association, Orange County Health board, and the City schools. Anyone interested is privileged to attend the lecture.

Mission Inn Chapel Is Chosen As Setting For Wedding

The beautiful chapel at the Mission Inn in Riverside was chosen by Mrs. Marie Hollen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Waters of Fullerton, and Harvey Tadlock, son of Mrs. Cordelia Tadlock of 317 West Washington avenue, this city, for their wedding that took place yesterday afternoon.

The impressive marriage service of the Presbyterian church was read by the Rev. Edward Statom formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church in Fullerton.

The bride was very lovely in an ensemble of yellow crepe de chine with close fitting hat and slippers in harmonizing tones. Her bouquet was of dainty yellow rosebuds and lillies of the valley.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Tadlock left for a honeymoon trip and on their return will make their home in Fullerton for a few months after which they will go to Reno, Nev., where Mr. Tadlock is a building contractor.

A dainty wedding luncheon was served at the Mission Inn preceding the wedding and covers were laid for Mr and Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Tadlock, Frederick Hollen, Dr. Statom, and Mr. Tadlock and his bride.

Miss Pearl Camblin Is Hostess to Teachers

Miss Pearl Camblin of 911 North Olive street was a charming hostess last night when she entertained the teachers of Roosevelt school at a delightfully appointed dinner and bridge party.

The pretty dinner table was centered with a low bowl of ranunculuses and places were marked by miniature orange trees similar to the large one that grows in front of the Camblin home.

Miss Isabel Lindsay, who scored high at bridge, received an attractive gift.

Guests included Miss Verna E. Welles, Miss Mae Pulham, Miss Thelma Gerrard, Miss Maurine Mathis, Miss Margaret Grant, Mrs. Will S. Kellogg, Miss Isabel Lindsay, Miss Martha Wirick, and Miss Gladys Campbell.

Bridge Prizes

It is an indisputable fact that a worthy prize adds zest to the bridge gathering.

The flair for choosing smart prizes, which distinguishes some hostesses is in reality but the result of a little more than usual thought.

At Ewerts, for instance, there are countless little trifles, far removed from the orthodox, that elicit praise in their new role.

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE SUMNER

To catch Homer nodding is a favorite indoor and outdoor sport of both old and young, which explains many a chortle at the spectacle of Chief Justice Taft "bawled out" by a 13-year-old chit for administering the oath of office to President Hoover with words a bit at variance with the chit's civic textbook.

Helen Terwilliger, the chit, was quite upset about it and wrote Mr. Taft that he said "maintain" instead of "protect." Helen got a nice letter back in which the former president told her she was right, but that to err was human. Helen got her picture in the papers and, no doubt, is quite a thorn in the flesh at home and abroad.

HOW ABOUT HAIRBRUSH?

There are times when these oh-so-smart modern youngsters make one yearn a good yearn for days when kids were seen and not heard, and weren't even seen too much, to say nothing of being utterly constitutionally incapacitated for taking their pens in hands with which to chid Chief Justices and their other elders and betters.

Education is a bit wrong if it turns out Helens imbued with a conviction that adherence to the text is the only known virue.

Dresses made of asbestos are a wrinkle of fashion's near future, according to the industrial chemical world. They will be more durable than homespun, can be sponged and pressed like silk, and have all the other qualities of silk. They might "get by," were it not for that word "durable." If there's one thing that the mass of women eschew in their clothes, it's durability. This attitude is probably a throw-back to the day when their mothers, or even themselves, were supposed to be lucky if they achieved a new "best dress" every other year.

H. C. L. OF ILLNESS

No problem strikes such a solar plexus whack at the middle class home as the high cost of sickness. An operation has foreclosed the mortgage on many a $6,000 house. The American Nurses Association is working on the solution of part-time nurses—nurses that can be hired by the hour, much as one would hire a cook to get a dinner. The plan sounds most sensible. There are few cases so critical that a nurse's constant attendance is required, and after the patient is bathed and fed and medicined the distraught $30-a-week papa finds himself paying nurse's $15 a day while she tats or reads.

WE'RE "VULGAR"

The average American high school graduate is "more vulgar and infinitely less cultured than any European peasant," according to Everett Dean Martin. "America, who has staked her all on education, is utterly confused as to its meaning," he explains.

But the fact remains that America reaches down into her pocket and gives every kid a chance at education, whatever that education means, unlike any other country in the world, and we are moved to note that the peasants freed from our "vulgarity" seem most awfully glad to give their kids a chance at what is offered them here.

EVE BLAMED

Four girls were beaten by members of a church in Czecho-Slovakia the other day. The congregation blamed the short skirts of the girls for a very severe spell of cold weather which had struck their community. Police had to rescue the girls.

We say "fanatical" and yet a girl was put out of one of our own schools the other day because the School Board said her bobbed hair and short skirts were a bad influence and menace to her pupils.

Red Snapper for Dinner

"Pigs is Pigs" and "fish is fish" with many a family unless Mother is interested in preparing fish dishes that are just a bit out of the ordinary. So many kinds of fresh fish are now available and cost but little . . . Red Snapper f'r instance.

But the uninitiated look at the husky red scales and pass Mr. Red Snapper for the always convenient chop or steak.

An easy way to scale fish is to pour boiling water over the fish and wrap the steaming fish quickly in newspaper for five minutes. The back of a knife rubbed against the scales removes them like magic . . . the same principle is followed as when a chicken is scalded before picking.

It is more economical to buy fish in the piece, cook part of it as fish steaks served with tartar sauce, and steam the rest to be used as fish cakes . . . splendid for breakfast . . . or in a way described below. Canned fish may be used if fresh fish is not available.

Fish Souffle
1 cup cooked flaked fish
1 cup fluffy mashed potatoes
2 eggs
½ cup hot milk
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons butter

Mashed potatoes left over from another meal may be used. Put them in a double boiler with half the milk, the butter, salt and pepper. Mash and beat with rotary egg whip until very smooth and fluffy. Remove from the fire and stir in the fish, flaked fine, and one of the eggs, well beaten.

Put the souffle into a buttered baking dish—one quite shallow and flat gives more of a browned surface and better flavor, I find. Set into a hot oven and quickly brown. While this is under way—

Separate the remaining egg, beat the white very stiff and the yolk creamy. Combine the two, add salt and pepper, whip lightly to mix and pour over the top of the browned souffle. Set back into the oven, reduce the heat and let this meringue brown nicely. Serve immediately.

The Souffle serves four and the calories total 970. This is a very moderate total when we consider that both fish and potatoes are combined in the same dish. New peas and carrots dressed with butter would be 'sumshus with this souffle, but nicely creamed cabbage need not take a back seat just because Spring Vegetables are making their debut.

Supposing you had an old cook book handed down from your grandmother's day—could you transpose the old directions for pounds and ounces into cupsful and tablespoonsful? In cooking cereals do you know exactly how many cups of liquid are used to each cup of uncooked cereal? The current leaflet, A LITTLE OF THIS AND A LITTLE OF THAT, condenses this information, and we offer it to you, this week only, free of charge if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for its return.

For tomorrow the recipe will be Custard-Rhubarb Pie . . . doesn't that sound 'sumshus?

STANTON

STANTON, March 29.—A beautiful scenic drive was taken recently over the Corona Skyline route and Saddleback and down through Corona by three car loads of relatives. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. King Rutledge and three children, Mrs. J. H. Rutledge and F. Rutledge, of Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Frohm and son, Bob, and Maydean and Josephine Elmore, of Buena Park. A picnic dinner was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Clark have heard recently from their son, John Clark, who is in Nicaragua. He wrote that he had been bitten on the knee by a tarantula. The wound gives him quite a little pain, he wrote, and it is being dressed twice a day by a surgeon.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Add the name of June Nash to the imposing list of New York girls who have followed the advice of Horace Greeley much to their own advantage. Miss Nash, who recently deserted Broadway, plays her fourth leading role in motion pictures, this time in Fathe's first 100 per cent dialogue attraction, "Strange Cargo," which will be seen and heard at the Walker theater today and tomorrow.

Miss Nash, who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., started her stage career under the tutelage of David Belasco at the age of eight years, playing a child part in "Daddies," which starred Jeanne Eagels. Later she appeared in an important part in "The Return of Peter Grimm," which David Warfield made famous on the stage. Her last stage appearance was in the latest edition of George White's "Scandals."

Since engaging in motion picture work Miss Nash played leading parts in "Companionate Marriage," "Say It With Sables," and "Daughters of Desire," the latter featuring Irene Rich and Richard Tucker.

A large cast of capable stage players is seen with her in "Strange Cargo." The story boasts of two leading feminine parts, one of which Miss Nash portrays. The other is played by Lee Patrick. The cast includes George Baraud, Russell Gleason, Frank Reicher, Ned Sparks, Harry Allen, Kyrle Bellew, Claude King, Josephine Brown and Otto Matiesen.

BROADWAY

An interesting feature of "The Ware Case," baffling drama on at the Yost Broadway theater today and tomorrow, entirely aside from the ingenuity of the sustained mystery, is the sequence which shows how a murder trial is conducted in an English court. The "Old Bailey," most famous of the central criminal courts of London, was duplicated for the picture.

The problem offered in "The Ware Case," is this: The young brother of Lady Ware, sole heir of his father, is murdered and Scotland Yard is brought in to solve the crime. A letter from the boy, after a quarrel with his sister, indicates suicide, but marks of violence are found on him. Both Lady Ware and her husband, Sir Hubert are suspected. Finally a charge of murder is lodged against Sir Hubert. His wife no longer loves him, returning the affection of Sir Machiel Adye, but she persuades her lover to defend her husband. One more hint: the jury finds him "Not Guilty." The murderer is still to be apprehended. His identity is disclosed in the brief, sensationally dramatic climax.

The cast is a capable one, a brilliant performance being given by Stewart Rome, distinguished British actor, featured as Sir Hubert. He has excellent aid from Betty Carter, Ian Fleming, Cameron Carr, Syd Ellery and the other members of the cast.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Howson have returned to their home on Fairview avenue. The Willia mPattersons had been in the Hanson home for the past year while Howsons were east and in Santa Ana.

H. R. Fuller, E. C. Biddick, of Louisiana, and J. Wright, father-in-law of Mr. Healy, went fishing on the barge off Newport Thursday and reported eight large halibut caught.

Nina Mae Middleton returned this week to her broadcasting work in Los Angeles after having spent two weeks' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Middleton, of Victoria street.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Lillard, Capt. Annette, Clarice Stout, of Los Angeles; J. S. Balyeat, of Louisiana, and H. R. Fuller and family picnicked at Palisades Beach Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Biddick and daughter, of Meridian, Idaho, who have been spending the winter in Long Beach, were visitors last week of the H. R. Fullers. The Biddicks will leave for their Idaho home next week.

Roberta Middleton, assistant at the post office, will take a two weeks' vacation beginning next Monday. She is planning a week in Los Angeles and a week in San Diego. Mrs. Nina Salisbury will assist during her absence.

Robert and Helen Fuller were guests at a party given in the Ebell club house in Long Beach by Miss Biddick of Meridian, Idaho, Thursday evening.

Billy Middleton, son of W. W. Middleton, is stationed at Oahn, Hawaii with military forces; and reports he is enjoying the training and the school work.

Leroy Anderson, Costa Mesa lawyer, and representative at Sacramento of the harbor district for the school legislation, returned home Monday night. He reports that legislation seems to be favorable for the district. Mr. Anderson will return to Sacramento shortly.

THE JUDGE - By FANNIE HURST

Illustrated by Austin Jewell

The World's Highest Paid Short Story Writer

Author of "Humoresque", "A President Is Born"

THE community was proud of the Judge, and well it might be. She had come to the bench at thirty-one. At thirty-seven, she had an enviable record of rectitude, fairness, compassion and wisdom.

She sat in the Magistrates Court and the cases that came before her were domestic ones of every shade, social scale, variety and complication. There appeared before her day after day, week after week, month after month, tangled marital, filial and social woes of every description. They paraded themselves before the disillusioned, weary eyes of the comely, youngish Judge, who tried so conscientiously to temper her judgment with justice and the milk of human kindness.

IN the main she succeeded. Her conclusions came after long and careful study of a situation; her hand hovered twice as readily to sign a reprieve as it did to sign a conviction. If ever a judge brought to the bench an honest and high desire to wield a high, infallible quality of good will to all men, this one did.

It was not strange, after a few years of contact with the bitter embroilings into which human beings could plunge themselves by way of matrimony, that the Judge herself should continue to sidestep the romance that had come into her life in the years when she was a student at law school in a city university.

If she had entertained the idea back there in her college days that Merrivale Phillips was not the man to bring peace into her life, those doubts were certainly not mitigated by her experiences of the subsequent years. A man as high-strung as Phillips, as dominant, as aggressive, as brilliantly domineering, would make a difficult life companion. Now that the Judge had seen so much domestic wreckage pass before her eyes, it mattered less than ever that Phillips was deeply and devoutly in love with her.

She realized that the sentiment she entertained for this high-strung, high-handed gentleman of the bar was probably the most intensive emotion that would ever cut into her being. She realized that, but she realized too many other things, besides, to let it predominate over her wisdom, her sagacity, her judgment and her well-known common sense.

YOU could not sit on the bench as did the Judge, day after day, always contemplating human debris, and not come face to face with the realization that a strange and fundamental incompatibility exists between members of the human race. It was nothing for the Judge in one day to have pass before her in undress parade the naked emotions of husband-hating wives and wife-hating husbands. Triangle after triangle of husband, wife and lover; wife, husband and mistress.

Women struggling for the custody of their children, men sick at heart with the infidelity of the mothers of their children, broken up homes, sisters and brothers torn apart, women hysterical for alimony, men unwilling to pay—that was part of the dreary procession that passed across the courtroom where the Judge presided.

IT was with relief that amounted to an actual soaring of the spirit when the Judge left her chambers each afternoon, throwing off, if possible, the trials and the vicissitudes of the courtroom and returning to the large modern hotel where she lived in a well-appointed suite. It was like stepping into a clean, cool bath to enter here after the turmoil of the day. The Judge loved to come home, climb out of her stiff clothes, let down the prim bandeaux of her hair into flowing masses, wrap herself in something soft and sheer and relax—let the sense of the turmoil of life run like sand out of her fingertips. To feel free. To know that in her life there were no knots, no nagging, carping relations, no frightened children, no faithless husband, no domestic incompatibilities. The Judge was free.

Of all this, Merrivale Phillips had little understanding and less sympathy. He was a big, bluff fellow with an enormous sense of self-confidence and a quality of good-natured cynicism that in spite of herself the Judge found irresistible.

"I'll get you yet," he used to say to her. "We're not a pair of spring chickens and heaven knows what we're waiting for. But in the end, after you've stalled me off, again and again, you're going to come around and beg to eat out of my hand the way they do in story books. And then, maybe I'll marry you and maybe I won't."

"I wouldn't marry the best man living, Merry," she said to him frequently as they dined across the soft, shaded candle-lights of restaurant tables or in the cozy seclusion of her little suite. "I've seen too much. I know how unhappy the wrong kind of alliance can be. And so far as I have been able to judge, there doesn't seem to be any way to have sufficient wisdom before the event. I love my life, Merry. I may be missing something, but, if I am, I haven't got enough sense to know it."

"Mark my word, there's going to come a day that always does come in the story books when you're going to come around and beg me to marry you."

You could not sit on the bench as did the Judge, day after day, always contemplating human debris, and not come face to face with the realization that a strange and fundamental incompatibility exists between members of the human race.

SHE loved to hear him laugh. It was like a great explosion of something clean and gusty and healthy. He had a way with him, Phillips had. No doubt of that. The Judge liked to dine with him twice a week. She liked to be seen at the theatre with him. But best of all, she liked, when she came home, to leave him at the elevator and go into her suite, into seclusion, into the soft, downy things that relaxed her—alone.

The sixth year the Judge sat on the bench seemed to her about the most crowded, the most difficult, the most appalling of all that had gone before. Infidelities of one kind or another—ruined girls; profligate boys; suicidal wives; inebriate husbands; tortured children—moved across the picture in greater numbers than ever before. Her calendar was packed, the Judge herself harassed, harried and troubled as she had never before been.

On those evenings when fatigue was heaviest upon her, it seemed to her, as if, with these inklings of life that came so poignantly home to her, the business of living was too much to be endured. The pain, the sorrow, the shame, the degradation that seemed to grow chiefly out of the marital relation were overwhelming.

If ever a woman, and that woman in her prime, underwent a sickness of the soul, a migraine of the spirit and weariness of the heart, that woman was the Judge, who knew too much of life to have enough illusion left to drape around it.

THE case of the Schneiders was probably in its entirety the most degrading, obnoxious and cruel one that had ever come before the observation of the Judge. It was a case of infidelity within infidelity. A wife unfaithful to her husband; a husband unfaithful to his wife; the lover and the mistress in love with one another. Children were involved, even an unborn one, making a scandal that was presently to smear itself across the front pages of the journals of the land.

It took all the Judge's fortitude, capacity for justice, courage and understanding to cope with this disastrous situation. Day after day she listened to its ramifications and heard the whole sordid story from every conceivable angle. Night after night she wrestled with its problems, threshing out conflicting statements, tearing down all clues, ferreting out witnesses, struggling unceasingly in her search for justice.

One night it seemed to the Judge that she was too tired to go on. The sordidness of life was almost too much for her. The seclusion of her rooms felt like a damp bathing suit donned at dawn. The Judge was tired and cold.

It was then that she wrote Merrivale Phillips a note: "I'm for the dumb, story-book ending, Merry. Let's get married tomorrow."

Puritan Ham

"First in the Land - The Taste Tells"

For the festive Easter dinner and for every meal and season, there is nothing more satisfying and nutritious than Cudahy's Puritan Ham.

A FAMOUS PURITAN BAKED HAM RECIPE:

Select a twelve-pound Puritan ham. Scrub well with cold water, rinse and place in kettle with cold water to cover. Simmer four hours. Seasoning such as bay leaf, celery, carrot, and parsley gives added flavor. Remove ham from liquor and peel off skin, except from shank. Place ham in roaster with cup each of vinegar and hot water and bake slowly for one hour, basting frequently. Score the fat surface evenly and spread with brown sugar and bread crumbs, placing cloves at intervals. Bake until brown, uncovered and without further basting.

Puritan Ham is excellent in any serving. Boil or bake whole or half ham; fry or broil center slices. Your dealer has a freshly cured stock of Puritan Ham in the special Easter wrappers. Ask for Puritan.

OLIVE

OLIVE, March 29.—Arthur Tetzlaff has about completed the new addition to his home on Fletcher avenue. He has added a bed room and enlarged the bathroom and screen porch.

Rudy Hemann has purchased a new all electric radio.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lemke, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lemke, Walter Timken and family and Ben Lemke and family joined in a motor party to Palm canyon Sunday. They found delightful weather in the canyon and large crowds. Passing through Banning they were greeted with the novel sight of housetops covered with snow, for it had snowed quite heavily there on Saturday afternoon and night. After eating their lunch under the palms the party returned and stopped for a short visit with Mrs. E. H. Kreidt at the Southern Sierras sanitorium in Banning.

Mrs. Scherman Ebson and children, of Redlands, spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. D. Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Merdith, of Los Angeles, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Roberts in the home of Gus McClintock.

Oliver Burdg and family and William Luchau motored to Maywood Sunday afternoon to call on Mr. Luchau's daughter, Mrs. Harry Caldwell.

Mrs. Henry Luchau entertained a group of school children in her home Saturday afternoon in observance of her daughter Josephine Schimp Luchau's birthday. The large dining room table was gayly decorated with a large crepe paper basket in orchid, pink, and lavender colors, filled with artificial daffodils, all the work of Miss Josephine. Individual nut baskets were made of orchid crepe topped with a tiny daffodil. After several hours of games and music, the hostess served a birthday cake with brick ice cream. Miss Josephine was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from the following schoolmates: Leora Matthees, Alice Heinemann, Irene Brelje, Vera Lemke, Hilma Krage, Melvina Stohlmann, Margaret Kreidt, Irma Klassn, Edna Heim, Erwin aulus, Oscar Lieffers, Ealther Boehner, Richard Henning, Henry Paulus, Roy Truempler, Arthur Lemke and Arthur Paulus.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paschall entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witcher,, of Anaheim, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boehner and children motored to San Gabriel Sunday afternoon to visit relatives there.

August Heinemann has purchased an all electric radio for his home.

Mr. and Mrs. August Stochlmann and family attended a surprise party given for Mr. and Mrs. Teheodore Baker in their home in Paularino Friday evening and in honor of their fifth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were presented with a purse as token of their esteem by those who were present. The pleasant evening was brought to a close with a light lunch, served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. M. Baker, parents or Theodore Baker; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Lemke, of Tustin; Mrs. Hess and children, George and Mary, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bake and sons, Russell and Edwin, of Santa Ana, and August Stohlmann and family, of Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klaner and son, Frederick, were birthday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Struck Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Burdg entertained the Friday 500 club in their home Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. George Lemke and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luchau substituted for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klaner and Mr. and Mrs. August Stohlmann, who were unable to be present. Mr. and Mrs. August Heinemann gained high score while Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luchau were low.

The Gate-Way club met Friday evening in the home of Miss Marie Brelje. Members present were Mesdames Esther Guenther, Hazel Gollih, Nora Meierhoff, Lora Otte, Anna Meierhoff, Frieda Hammond, Ella Hemann, Clara Brelje, Martha Lemke, Mildred Hemann and Alma Paulus. Homemade coffee cake and coffee were served at a late hour. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Florence Heim on the evening of April 5.

August Heinemann, breeder of thoroughbred Rhode Island red chickens, reports a steady increase in the number of chicks being made ready for the Easter market. At present he has about 800 chicks in his brooders, and in a few days expects to double that number. Mr. Heinemann has won numerous first awards for his birds at the various county fairs. Last year he shipped several consignments of chicks to Honolulu.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

BOLSA

BOLSA, March 29.—Earl Gardner left Monday night for the north and was accompanied on the trip by Prof. L. L. Doig, principal of the Garden Grove high school, who was going to Berkeley to attend a principals' meeting. Mr. Gardner is making the trip to bring his mother home. Mrs. Sarah Gardner has been visiting members of her family at Alameda since last August.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross have a new daughter, whose name is Ruth Marie. Mrs. Ross and Ruth Marie, whose weight was 10 pounds, are at a private hospital in Santa Ana. Mrs. Frye, mother of Mrs. Ross, is caring for the home.

At Friday's election two tickets will be voted, one for the high school trustees and the other for Bolsa elementary school director. Roy Head, incumbent on the elementary board, is the only one whose name has been put up for the place. Earl Gardner, of Bolsa, present president of the Garden Grove high school board, and E. A. Wakeham are on the high school ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ward attended the American Legion card party given Monday evening in the Woman's clubhouse at Garden Grove.

Mrs. John McMillan, Mrs. Fern Gardner and Mrs. Crowder are on Friday's election board.

Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth have just returned from two days spent with relatives at Escondido. Mr. Farnsworth hauled a truck load of hay from Escondido this week.

Miss Bessie Gardner was a weekend visitor in Norwalk, where she was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCullah.

Mr. Scott of the J. C. Joplin ranch, who has been a patient at the county hospital, has returned home and is convalescing rapidly.

Mrs. George B. Crane and Mrs. Charles Graham, of Springdale, called on Mrs. J. D. Shutt, who has been confined to her home by illness for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, of Newport Beach, were recent evening dinner guests with their relatives here.

The glory of the Day is expressed with Easter lilies. Flowerland, Sycamore at Washington. Phone 2326.

Imagine yourself popping a bushel of CORN at

One time

SOME kernels would be popped—some burnt—some unchanged. A little at a time is the only way to pop corn. And by roasting coffee by their patented, continuous process — a few pounds at a time, instead of in bulk—Hills Bros. roast every berry evenly. The result—you taste a flavor no other coffee has.

IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS AT L. B. APPROVED

LAGUNA BEACH, March 29.—Two improvement districts were given council approval last night despite protests in both instances, and the work was ordered done and bids asked.

The first of these is the slough, which has been before the council repeatedly and improvement of which was contemplated long before the city was incorporated. Plans and specifications were adopted several weeks ago and the resolution of intention passed. Protests were filed in writing by property owners representing less than one per cent of the area of the district and the resolution was passed over their objection. They averred that certain owners of abutting property would secure a valuable advantage by virtue of use of the covered drain. It was also asserted that the proposed drain would be likely to clog and thus fail to function as designed.

The Diamond street improvement matter was protested but likewise passed over the objections lodged. In this instance it was stated that the public advantage was much greater than that which would accrue to property owners in the proposed district, and it was asked that the district be increased in area.

Herbert Deffley claimed damage to property on Broadway by reason of widening the street three feet more than contemplated, and that shock due to blasting rock in the widening process had caused cracks in his house. The matter was referred to the city engineer and to Councilman Riddell for investigation and report.

A spirited tilt between N. E. West and Charles W. Casey developed when the latter asked approval of a map for an Emerald bay subdivision. The matter had been before the council at its meeting last week, then at an adjourned meeting on Saturday. The Jonas company, subdividers, represented by Casey, had been asked to increase the size of lots. Mr. West questioned whether the enlarged lots were as big as they should be and also whether the subdivider had the reputation of putting on high quality tracts, as had been asserted by Casey. The dispute threatened to become warm when Councilman Lippincott suggested that the matter was not one to which the council should be compelled to listen. Provisional approval was given pending the filing of an official map with the changes which the council requires.

BREA

BREA, March 29.—Mrs. H. E. Hardy, wife of a member of the Brea police department, is seriously ill at the family home on W. Cedar street. The nature of Mrs. Hardy's illness has not been entirely determined.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Todd, former residents of Brea canyon, have purchased the Glenn Dunkle property at 125 South Redwood and are now settled there. Mr. and Mrs. Todd were forced to give up their canyon home, originally the first canyon school house, when the new Brea canyon road survey ran through their living room. Mr. Todd is an employe of the Union Oil company.

Glenn E. Deamer, radio dealer, who for the past several months has been conducting his business in the Ted Craig building at the corner of Cedar and Pomona avenues, has taken a five-year lease on room No. 205 of the E. H. Peterkin building.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Once more the Tinies were alone. Said Clowny, in a grieving tone, "Just think! With both the coal men gone, we don't know where we are. There's not a single soul in sight. I surely hope that we're all right. This must be miles from where we were, 'cause we have traveled far.

"As I recall, not long ago the four of us were down below the ground, inside a little mine, and since we left that place, we've traveled down a long, long hill. We kept on going fast until we reached the spot that we're on now. Oh, what a useless chase."

"Don't be so silly," Scouty said. "Why stay right here? Let's move ahead and look around the country. We may find a town nearby. I'm just as hungry as can be, and food would look real good to me." "Don't mention food," cried Coppy. "'cause it only makes me sigh."

And, as they talked they walked along, though none of them felt very strong. 'Course Clowny dragged behind. He was a very lazy sort. "My feet are getting tired," said he. "And, very frankly, I can't see why we don't stop a little while and rest. This is no sport."

Just they they heard a buzzing sound. The Tinies stopped and looked around. "It came from in the air," cried one. "Can anybody see just what is flying 'round up there?" They all looked right up in the air. Then Carpy shouted, "There's a man. He's in a tub. Oh, gee!"

And sure enough, upon the breeze a tub was floating 'round with ease. It had some great big funny wings. It dipped from left to right. The man inside stood up and cried, "I see you, Tinymites. Don't hide, 'cause I'll be down to join you soon. I'm quite a funny sight."

(The Tinymites see a Goofygoo in the next story.)

TEN CRIMINAL CASES HANDLED IN ALLEN COURT

Arraignments, probation hearings and filing of informations for 10 asserted criminals were held today in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

William Ramirez, Placentia, was charged with seduction in an information filed by Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman. Ramirez pleaded not guilty and will be given a jury trial. He was represented by Morris Cain, Santa Ana attorney.

James Garrett, Huntington Beach, facing two charges of selling liquor, received trial dates on each count today. He was arrested in the recent liquor raids conducted by District Attorney Z. B. West jr., and Sheriff Sam Jernigan. He has pleaded not guilty on each charge and will be tried on May 13 and 14. He was represented by D. G. Wettlin, Santa Ana attorney.

Z. N. Neel, Santa Ana, was denied probation after he had pleaded guilty on a charge of driving while drunk. He was given a nine months' term in the county jail. Burton B. Jones, of Orange, facing the same accusation, was granted probation after having pleaded guilty, but drew a six months' term in the county jail.

Joe Fox, Placentia, charged with forcible rape, pleaded not guilty and will be tried April 16.

Mary Boyer, Sunset Beach, charged with selling liquor, pleaded not guilty and will be tried May 15.

George Gleason, Sunset Beach, pleaded not guilty to a sale charge and will be tried May 22.

O. E. Smith, charged with attempting to pass a fictitious check for $70, pleaded guilty and asked for probation. He will be given a hearing at 9:30 a. m. next Friday.

Joseph L. Swanson, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty and asked for probation. He will get a hearing next Friday. Swanson told the court he thought he ought to have been charged with second degree burglary and was informed that the degree of the offense would be determined by the evidence.

R. D. Gard pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling booze and will be tried at 9:30 a. m., May 9.

GEOGRAPHICAL TALK IS BASED ON AUSTRALIA

That Australian orange growers made $6,000,000 last year, while profits on the apple crop totaled $10,000,000 was stated last night by A. W. Hulse, of Los Angeles, when he addressed the Orange County Geographical society at St. An's Inn. Hulse's talk included a general discussion of civic conditions in Australia and descriptions of animals native to that continent.

He told of the stalactite caves that are lighted by glow worms, but mentioned that this method was not always successful, for at a sudden noise the glom worms' light is extinguished, thus leaving the caves in total darkness.

R. B. Stacy-Judd, of Los Angeles, who was ag uest at last night's meeting, also made a brief address, in which he talked on Mayan architecture, which, he believes, will one day form the background for a new architecture, symbolical of the west. Stacy-Judd has designed several new buildings in Los Angeles and vicinity based on the ancient Mayan architecture.

At the business meeting following, Humphrey Reed, of Los Angeles, presented the society with a charter, affiliating it with the Pacific Geographic society.

REALTY BOARD CONDUCTS TREE ESSAY CONTEST

The Santa Ana Realty board is searching for a new idea in city beautiful projects. It began its hunt today by launching a contest among over 6000 school children of this community in which the youngsters will compete for $25 in prizes by explaining how a supervised plan of city-wide tree line planting on streets would benefit Santa Ana.

The project was announced at today's meeting of the Realty board in Ketner's cafe, when it was explained by G. O. Berry, member of the board's planning committee. Mrs. Clara Cushman, of the city planning commission, spoke on the same subject, explaining the commission's favorable attitude toward tree planting.

A unique feature of the contest is that the essays submitted will be judged not on choice of words or grammatical construction, but on the ideas they contain. The city planning commission will judge the papers, which are to be limited to 250 words.

To Open April 1

April 1 was set as the opening date of the contest, with April 20 as the final day. All entries are to be submitted to the Realty board. The first prize will be $12, the second award 8 and the final award $5.

Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg addressed the body and declared that in the next few years Orange county will continue to be one of the nation's white spots agriculturally. Due to the fact that Florida oranges are marketed during the winter months and that grapefruit falls on the same market, while this county's valencia arnges reach the markets during the spring and summer, the Orange county product has the market largely to itself and thus enjoys most favorable prices, Wahlberg explained.

The 1929 valencia crop in California will total 26,331 cars, Wahlberg said he had been advised today by the Orange County Fruit exchange, comparing this figure with the 1928 production of 18,531 cars.

Sees Production Gain

While there will be a large production increase throughout the citrus regions in the near future, Orange county is due to maintain its favorable position, Wahlberg said, owing to the fact that its crop is free to a great extent from competition. The grower, he pointed out, has a slight control over markets and, if he is to maintain or increase his return in the future, he must do it by producing more and better oranges per acre.

For many years, the speaker recalled, there have been predictions of over-production, but always they have failed to be borne out by the facts, for new market openings have been found for the fruit. The recommendations of doctors and dieticians that oranges be consumed, have increased consumption remarkably in recent years, he said.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthy had with them for the Easter vacation week, their granddaughter, Janet Worthy, of Long Beach, who accompanied her father, the Rev. Arthur Worthy here. Mr. and Mrs. Worthy had as their guests recently their daughter Mrs. Boyden Hall, and son, of Rosemeade, who went from here to Los Angeles taking home from the hospital Prof. Boyden Hall, who has been a patient for several weeks since an operation performed for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bowman and children of Los Angeles were entertained as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Armantrout.

Mrs. J. E. Miller, who has been with Mr. Miller at their local place of business since the latter part of last week, returned Tuesday to the family home at Pasadena.

Mrs. W. D. Shirey is ill in her home.

L. A. PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—(UP)—Trading was somewhat slower today on the Los Angeles market, with only a few price changes, and those were in a downward direction.

Apples continue to rule steady, loose Watsonville Newtowns selling at 85c@$1.00 a box at yesterday's auction.

Grapefruit was unchanged, fancy Imperial Valley stock ranging from $4.50@$9.00 on the 64 size, down to $3.25 on 100's and $3.00 on 126's.

Local cull lemons were draggy at $1.25@$1.50 a box.

After two days of lighter receipts, orange arrivals again mounted to over 10,000 boxes today, the heaviest arrivals recorded so far this year. Prices were about steady, loose culls and standards jobbed at $1.25@$1.50 a box for large stock, with medium sized fruit at 75c@$1.00 and small at 40c@50c.

Pismo peas were about steady at 10c@12c a pound, with local stock at $@12c, Imperial Valley at 10@11c, and Coachella Valley Peas at 8c@9c with some mildewed stock at 5½@5c.

Potatoes were steady but demand was somewhat slower, special marks of Stockton Burbanks selling in carlots at $1.35@$1.40 per cwt. With one car of large stock at $1.50.

New potatoes were a little weaker at 7@8c a pound for the best stock.

Strawberries were still in light supply and steady at $4.00@$4.50 a tray for the best Imperial Valley stock, with poorer berries at $2.50@$3.50.

Mexican tomatoes held steady at $2.50@$3.00 a lug for firsts, with small stock at $2.25@$2.50.

A preliminary estimate by the crop reporting service indicates planting of over 28,000 acres of cantaloupes in the Imperial Valley this year. This is an increase of 3600 acres over last year, but is slightly smaller than the average the two previous season.

DEMOCRACY ENDANGERED

The state Senate has just passed a bill authorizing secret fraternities and sororities in public schools. It is to be hoped that this bill will not become a law.

We are proud of our democratic institutions and particularly of the spirit of democracy and equality which pervades our public school system. Anything which will tend to increase whatever of differences amongst school children there may be, is dangerous. The attitude of absolute equality among students in public schools should be carefully fostered, and anything which would tend to break down this attitude should be prevented if possible.

That mental and physical inequalities exist is of course obvious and honors are heaped upon those who excel in scholarship and in contests either in sports or academic lines. In almost all cases these are honors which reflect credit on the particular school as a whole, and thus a school pride is engendered in every student in the school.

This is far different from the results which inevitably follow the formation of secret societies which are self-perpetuating. Students of high schools will at once be divided into groups selected and a large body of the students deemed by these groups as undesirable will be left out. Then follows an intensive fight in the many ways known to boys and girls to control or influence honors of various kinds in favor of members of their particular groups. Even though the high school faculty does its utmost, school politics and fraternal membership will divide the body into social classes to the verge of breaking down the morale of many an ambitious boy or girl.

The training in democracy which is so valuable a part of the school system will have received a tremendous blow and a spirit of class feeling and snobbishness would result which would be tarried over into the after life of the students.

If social class consciousness and a division eventually into social classes should be fostered in the general population then secret societies in public schools is a splendid method of accomplishing a desired result. But this spirit is all too prevalent at present and should not be deliberately encouraged.

While the prevention of illegal secret societies in the school now causes trouble for the faculty, how much more will be the difficulty if they are permitted?

Who is it that really want secret societies among immature students of the public schools? Is it the fathers and mothers of the students? Is it the teaching staff? Is it the general public, or is it the students themselves, or such part of them who wish to emphasize their fancied social or other superiority?

The association of secondary school principals has adopted the following resolution of the National Educational Association, in opposition to this bill.

"We condemn these secret organizations, because: They are subversive of the principles of democracy which should prevail in the public schools; they are selfish; they tend to stir up strife and contention, then are snobbish; they dissipate energy and proper ambition; they set wrong standards; rewards are not earned by merit but are based on fraternity vows; they are expensive and foster habits of extravagance; they bring politics into legitimate organization of the schools; they detract interest from study and all legitimate elements for good these societies claim can be accomplished through literary societies of the school."

THE SHORT BALLOT IN ITALY

They had an election in Italy on Sunday last, and for the first time the voters used the short ballot. All they had to do to elect a whole Chamber of Deputies was to say "Yes" or "No." If the voter wanted Mussolini's list of candidates, he wrote down "Yes." If he did not want the list, he wrote "No." And in either case, it made little difference, because if there were more "Noes" than "Yeses", Mussolini has the law so fixed that he can do it himself. It is what we call here in America just an informal vote, which, as we know, decides nothing and binds nobody.

And it might be of interest to note, for the benefit of those in this country who think a little Mussolinism would be good for us here in the United States, that the vote in Italy was by syndicates. That is, each labor union, each particular industry, the school teachers, the college professors, the newspapermen, the artists, and the students voted as a class. It is strange that what seems so dangerous near at home for some of our citizens becomes so desirable in Italy. When the Syndicalists in England were suggesting that sort of a Parliamentary representation for Great Britain, the conservative classes immediately scented Socialism in its most dangerous form. And when the I. W. W. taught the same doctrine here in the United States we sent them to jail.

The fact is, we have as little use for syndicalism in Italy as we have for it in the United States. The whole business is away from the good old democratic principle that a man is a man before he is a farmer, a capitalist, a laborer or anything else. It may be that Italy needs the kind of government that Mussolini is giving that country, but we do not. Our political leaders who laid the foundation of the American government had a little question about the ability of the people to determine directly the form of government. That is manifest in the scheme of the electoral college, the equal representation of the states in the Senate whose members were to be chosen by the Legislature, the veto power of the President, and the final review of a Supreme Court whose members were appointed for life. But they left the door wide open for entrance into a fuller democracy, and we have come pretty near getting it. On the whole it works well. It surely works better than any other scheme of government that has ever been tried.

We like Italy's short ballot, but we do not like the way it practically disfranchises everybody in Italy but Mussolini.

Prisoners in a Missouri jail were discovered making liquor. It seems that even in jail a fellow can't have personal liberty any more.

WE WOULD WELCOME THEM

Santa Ana is an almost ideal college town. The people of the city are of the sort to appreciate higher education and the aims of young men and women students. Our citizens are of the sort to form the finest kind of a background and environment for a Christian college. This is eminently a Christian community with the highest religious ideals. We will welcome to our community and our homes right thinking and ambitious young men and women who are preparing for a life of usefulness through a college of liberal arts.

The faculty of such a college will find a warm welcome and enthusiastic co-operation from all our citizens, and the members of the faculty will form an important part of the general cultural resources of our community.

The climate and general geographical situation could not be better. Twelve miles from the ocean makes recreation there easy of access without being a menace to college studies and discipline. Far enough from a large city to avoid most of the temptations there offered but near enough to take advantage of its cultural opportunities. Should the Nazarene college now in Pasadena decide to locate here as seems now probable, the Board of Trustees of the college, its faculty and the student body will meet with the heartiest co-operation.

The survey which gives the farm population as only 27,511,000 must be wrong. There are that many farmers in New York City.

WAIT JUST SEVEN SECONDS!

How highly do you value seven seconds time? Enough to risk your life to save them?

Probably you don't. Yet, in motoring across the country, there probably have been at least two or three times when you have hurried to cross a railroad track ahead of a train, so you wouldn't have to wait.

What's that got to do with the value of seven seconds? Just this: seven seconds is the average length of time it takes a fast railroad train to get by a crossing.

It isn't a long period of time. Yet, in 1928, upwards of 1000 motorists were killed at grade crossings.

They prized their seven seconds so highly that they paid with their lives for them.

Of course, we realize many of these were killed unsuspecting that a train was due, others were killed by other kinds of trains than the fast ones, but still it is valuable to remember whether it is seven seconds or 15 seconds, or even four or five minutes, it is worth while to wait.

Rockville Centre Seeks Tranquility

New York Times

The village of Rockville Centre, on Long Island, has decided that loud-speakers mounted over the doorways of radio shops are not in keeping with the spirit of quiet, which is one of the town's chief charms.

Doubtless the dealers affected will feel that this is an injustice to them. But noise-harried residents—especially those who spend their days in the din of Manhattan—will hail the decision as wise. Some, in fact, would like to see the ordinance made even more drastic, so that with the approach of warm weather and open windows the neighborhood will not be subjected to the usual cacophony of conflicting radios all turned on full.

The problem is one which New Yorkers as well as suburbanites have to face. Even the most ardent radio fans admit that there is a limit both to the lateness of the hour and the intensity of the power of loud-speakers beyond which they become nuisances to all concerned. It is almost impossible to establish a limit which will suit everybody. But people frazzled by noises all day long are so much in need of restful periods that they are likely to welcome regulations which will eliminate at least some of the noises, no matter what their origin.

China's Famine

Riverside Daily Press

It is hard to get excited about tragedies that do not happen close to home. If half a hundred people in the next county are in trouble we hurry to their aid; but if a hundred times that number are in dire straits 3000 miles away we are not so greatly moved.

Recent news stories from China indicate that the famine now raging in Shantung and Chihli is worse than was anticipated. Fully 20,000,000 people are on reduced rations, and nearly half a million are said to be actually starving to death. This represents one of the most frightful tragedies in modern history—but it is so far away that most of us are not even aware that it is happening.

Relief measures are being taken by the American China Famine Relief Committee, which is located at 205 East 42nd street, New York City. Contributions sent to that organization will help to alleviate the plight of the sufferers. It is a cause that ought to appeal to all of us.

Match This News In 25 Years Ago Column

San Francisco Chronicle

Nothing now new under the sun maybe, but quite a number of things are now commonplace that would have made the news quite different had they happened in the days of which we are reminded by the Twenty-Five years Ago Today column.

A baby at play falls into a tank of water. The mother drags the child out, rushes to a hospital. A pulmotor restores life. Twenty-five years ago today the child would have been dead.

At Silver Creek, a remote spot on the line of the Buffalo-Cleveland airmail route, two little children were left alone in a cabin which caught fire. The little children played on, not realizing the terrible death at hand. An airmail flyer, seeing the flames, went out of his path to signal for help. His signals were understood. The children were rescued. Twenty-five years ago——

Well, the story would have read differently then. Perhaps we should not even have heard about it at all.

Another Good-Will Embassador

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

NOW THAT WE HAVE GOT IT, WE DON'T WANT IT
(Apologies to John Golden)

Years back, when I went to the movies,
Extremely annoying I found
The lively grimace of a hard working face
Which functioned without any sound.
I could not get used to the silence
I chafed when a longshoreman's riot
Or a brewer's parade must perforce be portrayed
In absolute quiet.
To transfer the lines to the titles
To me seemed extremely absurd
No scene could instill any sort of a thrill
When never a voice could be heard.
A hero whose lips uttered nothing
Appeared to me futile and weak
"Perhaps he'd get by as an actor" said I,
"If he only could speak."
Today when I go to the movies
And hark while the actors go through
The lines of the play in the uncanny way
Which you and I know that they do,
And listen to fire truck sirens
And baseball fans' riotous cheers
And the rackets and roars of the great out of doors
I stop up my ears
The screen, without doubt has a future
It will play a remarkable part
When it has a real chance to promote the advance
Of the glorious Thespian art.
Even now quite a few of the players
Could give me an old fashioned thrill
If the misguided souls while enacting their roles,
Would only keep still!

DO IT YOURSELF

We often wonder at the amount of space newspapers devote to the problem of sports.

They tell us now that television will only be made to pay in the report of prize fights.

A good prize fight is a national event and calls visitors from all parts of the country. It already exceeds baseball and horse racing as a popular institution, although in many places it is against the law.

Thousands of people crowd the benches to watch baseball games and hordes surround the contestants at golf and tennis matches.

Unfortunately almost all of these people are merely spectators; that is, they merely sit and stand to watch the players. They do not participate in the exercise themselves.

Just as in churches the congregation listens to a choir of paid singers and misses the joy of taking part in singing.

A Chinese observer of a modern dance in America expressed his surprise that the people danced themselves and did not hire dancers to do their work for them.

In most sports we are merely spectators. The spectacle might just as well be a contest between trained fleas, as recently occurred in some Spanish country, a fight between belligerent fishes.

All this sporting might do some good besides furnishing an opportunity for gambling if it incited people to more physical exercise. It is hard to say, however, how a baseball match between hired participants does any good to spectators sitting in the shade of the grand stand consuming lemon pop and peanuts.

Exercise is like religion. It does no good to have it described to you or performed before you.

You get good out of it when you take part in it yourself.

The trouble with us is that we know how to be amused but we don't know how to play.

People are constantly inventing new amusements. With the theatres come the movies. Then there are crowds at the baseball games and the congregations at the church, all seeking entertainmnt of one kind or another.

I went to a doctor once and told him I thought of taking some massage. He said massage was good enough but the best exercise was that which I did myself.

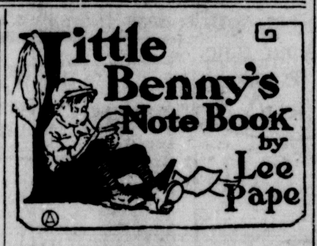

Grown people cannot roll hoops nor skip rope nor run races, perchance, but they ought to stir their stumps in some way.

The art of play and of the proper employment of leisure is lacking nowadays.

Play is the characteristic of youth and if a man or woman wishes to remain youthful in spirit, play should be kept up in one form or another.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

This morning I woke up from a dreem that somebody was shaking me out of a window as if I was a peece of carpit, and heer somebody reely was shaking me, being ma, saying. Come on, get up, youve been late for skool quite enuff lately and Im going to see that you have no possibility of an excuse this morning at least.

And she kepp on shaking me till I stopped going back to sleep and got up, and I was eating my brekfist already and it wasent quarter after 8 yet, and ma looked in the dining room with her hat on, saying, Now this looks more like it, I haff to go downtown rite away because theres a special sale and I dont wunt to miss it, but now will you promise me faithfully to go rite to skool as soon as you finish your brekfast?

Yes mam, I sed.

Wich I did, ony I was late anyways, the result being I had to give ma another late notice to sine to prove she knew it, ma saying. Well izzent this too bad, I thawt you promised me to go to skool imeedtily after your brekfist.

Well G wizz, ma, I did, so I did, I sed.

Well then will you tell me for land sakes my goodness how you could possibly be late? ma sed, and I sed, Why because I had to take a unusual long time for brekfast longer than I expected.

And why, why? ma sed, and I sed. Because I ate my soft boil egg with a fork and it wasent anyware neer as easy as what I thawt.

The result being a sudden quick push in frunt of the face from ma and a exter loud laff from pop lasting even after my nose felt all rite agen from where it was pushed.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY of—

PURCHASE OF ALASKA

Sixty-two years ago today the Russian minister at Washington received a cablegram from his government approving the United States' offer of $7,200,000 in gold for the purchase of Alaska.

Secretary of State Seward had made the offer a few days before, subject to the president's approval, and provided that the cession be "free and unencumbered by any reservations, privileges, franchises, grants, or possessions by any associated companies, whether corporate or incorporate, Russian or any other."

The day following receipt of the cablegram, Seward and the Russian minister signed the treaty of purchase without further negotiations. In May, the senate ratified it, and on June 20 the president issued the customary proclamation.

Alaska has proved itself to be one of the most profitable financial investments any government has ever made. Exactly 20 years after the purchase, in 1887, gold was discovered in the Klondike, and fisheries, furs, silver and copper have since yielded vast sums each year.

In 1927 the estimated revenue from copper alone was exactly the amount the United States paid for the territory in 1867.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

IMMIGRANTS AND PATRIOTS

Early in this month the hearts of millions throughout the German and American Republics were lifted in the sacrament of remembrance, as they brought the tribute of their gratitude to the memory of Carl Schurz, one of the valiant spirits of the nineteenth century who fought the battle of an authentic liberalism on two continents.

Since then I have dipped into the story of this many-sided man, and I have found Schurz the immigrant and Schurz the patriot an interesting study.

When Schurz was thinking of emigrating from Germany to the United States, he said: "The ideals of which I have dreamed and for which I have fought I shall find there, if not fully realized, yet hopefully struggling for full realization. In that struggle I shall perhaps be able to take some part."

That the reality he found was below his dreams need not detain us here. Later, speaking of the impulse that led him to emigrate to the United States, he said: "I felt an irresistible impulse to find myself."

To this man, the business of the immigrant is to find himself by losing himself in creative efforts to help his adopted country reach its worthiest goals.

There is no subtle alchemy in the taking out of citizenship papers that transforms a foreign-born man into a native. The social success of a "melting pot" lies less in the fires a government lights under it than in the quality and meltability of the material that goes into it. At least this would seem to be indicated in the story of the naturalization of Carl Schurz.

In reading the life of Schurz, I do not find him less the patriot because he dared to criticize the government of his fatherland and to transplant his allegiance to another government.

Here was a selective rather than a sentimental patriotism.

Here was a man who thought a discriminating loyalty to what is right in a man's country and determined opposition to what is wrong in a man's country far better than a chauvinistic shouting for his country, right or wrong.

Here was a man who never forgot that governments exist for men, not men for governments.

Here was a man who, for all his searching criticism alike of his native and of his adopted land, did not play apostle to an anemic internationalism of men whose roots strike into no sustaining soil, for he was not, at heart, antinationalist, but he wanted nationalism to be an expression of a nation's culture rather than a threat of a nation's power.

All this is, I think, good for immigrants and patriots to ponder.

OUR CHILDREN

EXCUSING HIM

Often we excuse a child's fault and so establish the reason for it. "Phillip has always disliked meeting people. He can't help it." "Mary Agnes never liked soup. I hate it myself. "Well, Tommie always did like sweets. He shouldn't have eaten the icing off the cake, but he has always liked that part of the dessert best. "Freda has always had a loud voice. Takes after her father." "O she's always been delicate. I've always had to baby her so now she is a little selfish. You must excuse it." "Yes, Sam is always late. I'll see him late for his own funeral I know."

When such speeches, sincere or otherwise are made before children their little foible is strengthened into a habit and the fault is fastened upon the child for his lifetime. Some habit that is a hinderance to him is to clog him throughout the years.

Why should a child dislike soup? Some grownup person said he disliked it and the child followed the flag. A discussion of soup or no soup followed and that always interests a child. No soup was his slogan from then on. He really knew nothing about soup.

What child was born without a liking for sweets? Is his liking to be permitted to grow into a phase of gluttony that will undermine his health? Instead of condoning his greediness he should have been informed he was behaving like a greedy little animal, without reason, without control and should take heed to himself.

A great many of the unhappy traits of children have been trained into them in just this way. Some grownups found the refusal to conform, the declaration of independence, very funny, or interesting, and made much of it. Then the child continued what might have been ended at the start by a word of reproof or correction.

Parents often come to school to ask the teacher to excuse the child for this or that little habit. "I wish you wouldn't ask her to read aloud. She has never been able to read aloud, not even in the home."

Many a child can do in school what he cannot do in the home because of the new associations formed in the school. That is one strong reason for sending him to school and when the parent goes to the school and asks that the child be excused from doing his work he is attempting to bind the child still more firmly with the cords of his bad habits.

Make as few excuses for the children as possible. Let them speak for themselves more and let us speak less. Often our fears for them leads us into making laws for them that they would never dream of making for themselves. Let them try to free themselves if they can, let them strike out for themselves and form new habits, new associations, new powers.

When you say, "Please excuse him and let him go," we are letting our fear speak. Give courage a chance and say, "Let him go free. Let him shoulder the consequences of his own deeds." Then will the child grow in power and happiness.
